Carried Message
Of Assassinations

WATCHUNG, N.J. (AP) — Police say an Ohio man arrested here on a concealed weapon charge was carrying a pencil printed message calling for the killing of the President, vice president and other government officials.

The note was found in the possession of Richard Lewis Beeson, 28, of Piqua, Ohio, who was being held in Somerset County jail in Somerville.

Police said the message was turned over to the Secret Service, which confirmed it was investigating.

The message read in part: Kill Following: President, Vice President, top four Cabinet members, mayors of 17 cities and congressmen.

A police spokesman said no names were mentioned and the message was addressed to no one. He said he does not know who wrote it.

Beeson was arrested early Sunday morning after he had parked his car near a gas station here.

Police said no one appeared to be in the car when they first investigated but then they discovered Beeson inside and also found a .25 caliber pistol in the rear seat.

Beeson will have a preliminary hearing on the weapon charge within a week, the police spokesman said, and any subsequent action on the charge would be taken by the grand jury in Somerset County.

Youth Is Slain By Auto Driver

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old Youngstown boy was fatally shot Tuesday night by a motorist driving through a youthful gang which was throwing rocks and bottles, police said.

Police said it was not immediately determined if Charles Henry, a student at Youngstown's Rayen High School, was among those throwing objects at cars passing through a city intersection.

No arrests had been made by early today. Police were continuing their investigation of the incident.

Soviets Silent On Hard Line In Middle East

Rogers, Dobrynin Continue Meets On Growing Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has agreed to more talks with the United States in an effort to find a political solution to the increasingly war-like Arab-Israeli confrontation.

But the agreement, understood to have been reached during a 40-minute meeting Tuesday between Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, is not expected to lead to any immediate settlement.

It was also understood the Soviet official refused to disclose any new background to the Russian strategy in providing pilots and increasing numbers of missile technicians to Egypt.

An earlier Soviet response had been declared imprecise and unsatisfactory by American officials and this latest refusal to go into more detail was expected to add to the pressure for a new sale of U.S. warplanes to Israel.

Viet Troops Reinforce Fire Base

SAIGON (AP) — Five hundred South Vietnamese troops made a helicopter assault today to link up with the weary defenders of a mountain ridge artillery base battered by two days of attacks in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Following up an early morning hammering by U.S. B52 bombers, American and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers dropped antipersonnel cluster bombs on lower ridges within half a mile of beleaguered Firebase Tun Tavern, while the relief force flew into a landing zone about the same distance from the base on the opposite side.

Field reports said there was no resistance as the reinforcements and their U.S. advisers joined the remnants of Tun Tavern's defenders to begin a sweep around the base.

At noon, North Vietnamese mortar crews were still hurling shells into the helicopter pad of the kidney-shaped outpost four miles east of the Laotian border as American medical helicopters wheeled in to take out the dead and wounded.

One helicopter was hit and destroyed this morning.

Losses continued to rise on both sides in the battle.

Council Approves Money Ordinance In Light Legislative Session Tuesday

Action was taken on only one of the three ordinances before Circleville city council Tuesday evening to pay a bill for office machines.

With the absence of Councilman Dave Goldschmidt, Keith Wagner presented the ordinance to amend the annual appropriation account for $300 to cover the cost of a copying machine for the city.

Held to a second reading was an ordinance to appropriate $204,077 from the RCA public utility fund to the engineering account for the installation of a sanitary sewer system connection with the city. Councilman Dave Crawford explained that the money in the account was provided by RCA and was not taxpayer's money, but requested action be withheld to allow other council members further time for study.

A communication was read from the Ohio Department of Health approving the plans submitted for the sanitary sewer extension to the plant on the condition it conform to state laws passed in 1968. City Service Director Woody Jones reported that the restriction applied to installation of entirely 'watertight' pipes and manholes which were included in RCA's plans.

COUNCIL moved to hold for a third reading an ordinance to dedicate one half of Clark Drive, owned by the Circleville City Schools. The other portion has been previously accepted by the city.

A new franchise agreement for the cable television system has been developed by the finance committee to be studied by council and the CATV firm.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt announced that the water softening ordinance had received final approval. Contract negotiations were reported underway between the city and Circleville Twp. for fire (Continued on Page 20)

Claim Yungay Alone Reports 17,500 Dead

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Bad weather and blocked roads continued to hamper efforts today to get rescue workers into the earthquake-shattered Huaylas Canyon high in the Peruvian Andes.

The towns of Yungay, Caraz and Huaraz in the canyon were almost totally destroyed in the earthquake which rumbled through half of Peru Sunday. Government officials feared as many as 30,000 people were killed, but broken communications still prevented anything like an accurate tally of casualties.

In Yungay, about 240 miles north of Lima, only 2,500 residents reportedly survived out of the population of 20,000, a high government official said.

Information Director Augusto Zimmermann said many people who ran into the narrow streets of the Andean villages and towns were killed by falling rocks and debris from the canyon walls. A surging tide of water from Lake Llanganuco added to the destruction.

The air force managed to drop a squad of 34 rescue workers Tuesday at Huaraz, at the south entrance of the gorge. It followed up with several more supply drops deeper in the canyon and made a few helicopter evacuations before the weather closed in.

President Juan Velasco paid a quick visit by navy ship to Chimbote, about 250 miles up the coast from Lima, and said he was shocked by what he saw in the fishing and factory city of 80,000. The president decreed an eight-day mourning period and his military regime ordered the national budget readjusted to provide $16 million to begin reconstruction.

Forty per cent of Chimbote was reported destroyed or damaged, and some 300 people were killed there, according to the latest official account.

Army Truck Cost Overrun 'Strangest'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's Gama Goat Truck, at latest cost $370 million more expensive than the original $69 million estimate, has gotten scant attention in the billion dollar overrun controversies over such projects as the C5 super transport.

Still, Sen. William Proxmire says the Gama Goat is one of "the strangest cases ever to come before this committee," that is, the Wisconsin Democrat's joint economic subcommittee, which is at the eye of overrun controversies.

A bench mark in the six-year-plus history of the radically different vehicle was its design by Ling-Temco-Vought. The Army was presented with the design, which it then used as the basis for competitive bidding. LTV won. Proxmire and his staff doubt there could have been any genuine competition.

From there the Gama Goat fell three years behind schedule, went from its original prototype size, little larger than a jeep, to a 7.5-ton vehicle, roughly the weight of the largest general use truck in Army service, and jumped from a $69 million project to $139 million.

The original $69 million was only an estimate, the Army says. On the basis of this figure, says Proxmire, who constantly plugs for more rigorous and accurate cost projections, there has been a 93 per cent unit cost hike, or overrun. The Army says once development was completed, the individual truck cost has only gone up 8 per cent. Army spokesmen defend the doubling of unit price saying it was treading new ground, asking for a unique overland truck with six wheels in two box-like sections connected by an "articulating joint" which gives with the terrain. It's supposed to go 55 m.p.h. swim and survive parachute drops as well.

Ohio House OKs Riot Bill; Measure Sent To Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The campus riot bill, after seven days of scrutiny in the House Judiciary Committee, passed through the lower chamber Tuesday by an 80-14 vote and went on to the Senate where the process began all over again.

The Senate Judiciary Committee began hearings on the measure late Tuesday in an effort to ready the legislation for a Senate floor vote, perhaps late today.

Admit Politics Enters Choice Of U.S. Science Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has confirmed it requires what amounts to political clearance for scientists appointed to important government advisory committees.

Frederic V. Malek, deputy undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, confirmed in part reports from career government officials and scientists that the administration has injected an unusual degree of partisanship into selections for policy advisory committees.

"It is important to the secretary and the management of the department to have certain appointees to these committees reflect his philosophies and represent his interests," Malek said.

The committees—covering areas from air pollution to alcoholism, heart disease and cancer—help shape the policy direction of critical scientific programs.

Appointments to strictly technical, nonpolicy advisory committees are apparently not subject to the political checks.

Career program managers complain of "low batting averages" in placing scientists they deem qualified on their advisory committees.

Recently, antipollution officials had all five of their nominees for the Air Quality Advisory Board rejected by the Nixon administration, sources said.

Five different men were appointed, three of them employees of industry.

Some scientists, in turn, report they have been denied advisory posts by the Republican administration because they are Democrats.

Ohio Soldier Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Sgt. William F. Duffner, husband of Sharon A. Duffner of St. Clairsville, Ohio, has been killed in action in Southeast Asia, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

Calling the issue of student disorder "the most pressing in recent times," Rep. Richard G. Reichel, R-92 Massillon, one of the principal sponsors of the bill in the House, told the Senate committee the bill was aimed at "restoring the orderly process."

Reichel was the first of several persons to speak in favor of the bill at the night session. Opponents of the measure were to testify today.

The House version provided for mandatory suspension of students, staff and faculty members arrested on charges of disrupting the orderly process. Disruption includes a number of offenses ranging from arson to malicious vandalism.

Pending the outcome of civil proceedings, a suspended student or faculty member has the option to request a hearing before an agent of the state attorney general.

Following presentation of the evidence, the hearing officer is then empowered to suspend the "defendant" for a period of no more than one year, or to restore him to prior status.

In the potential double jeopardy situation, however, the results of civil trial have an equal bearing on the status of the person suspended.

Conviction in civil court brings with it mandatory suspension from the university for student, staff and faculty alike.

Acquittal restores automatically to those suspended all the "benefits and privileges of his previous status."

Readmission as a student following a one year suspension, or re-employment of faculty and staff, is left to the "discretion of the board of trustees" of the college or university involved.

Work Error Apollo 13 Blast Cause

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The head of an investigation board says excessive electrical power applied to a pair of thermostatic switches during a ground test caused the Apollo 13 flight disaster.

Edgar M. Cortwright, chairman of the Apollo 13 investigation panel, said the switches welded themselves closed two weeks before the April 11 launch.

Workmen had applied too much voltage to a circuit that powered a heater inside the service module oxygen tank, he said.

The tank exploded April 13 while Apollo 13 was more than halfway to the moon, causing cancellation of a planned lunar landing and endangering the lives of the astronauts.

Cortwright said the ground technicians applied 65 volts of electricity to the switches when normal procedures to drain the oxygen tank failed. The switches, he said, were designed to withstand only 30 volts.

The heater was turned on to force the liquid oxygen in the tank to turn into gas, he said.

Probe Demand Is Withdrawn By U.S. Agency

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Department of Justice has withdrawn its demand for a civil investigation of the Cleveland Trust Co.'s books.

Still standing, however, is the department's antitrust suit, filed March 26, asking the court to order the bank to divest itself of stock interests in several firms manufacturing automatic screw machines.

The federal agency contends that Cleveland Trust's "substantial stock holdings" in four companies has resulted in less competition.

The Justice Department first demanded an investigation of the bank's books after Cleveland Twist Drill Co. and National Acme Co. announced merger proposals in October, 1968. The two firms since have merged to form Acme-Cleveland Corp.

Wallace Wins Way Back Into Power In Alabama Vote

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

George C. Wallace has won his bid to recapture Alabama's governorship—the likely prelude to another presidential race in 1972—and Jess Unruh claimed the Democratic nomination against Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Wallace, who overcame a narrow first primary loss, promptly celebrated his victory in Tuesday's Democratic runoff over incumbent Albert P. Brewer by demanding President Nixon "Give us back our schools."

Nearly complete returns gave

Wallace 542,154, Brewer 510,442. In California, Unruh, a slimmed-down version of the man known as "Big Daddy" while speaker of the state's Assembly in the mid-1960s, easily outdistanced Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles. Reagan was unopposed for Republican renomination.

That state's battle of two antiwar Democrats saw Rep. John V. Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, ahead of Rep. George E. Brown Jr., who once threatened to launch impeachment proceedings against President

Nixon because of the U.S. attack into Cambodia.

The winner faces incumbent Sen. George Murphy, the one-time actor and dancer, who defeated millionaire industrialist Norton Simon in the GOP primary. Murphy is a strong supporter of President Nixon's policies in Southeast Asia.

With 24 per cent of the state's 21,501 precincts counted, Unruh had 394,055 and Yorty 153,054. Senatorial totals stood: Tunne 253,979, Brown 206,798; Murphy 304,463, Simon 157,098.

The year's busiest political day so far, with balloting in eight states, saw the renomination of four Democratic senators—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, John C. Stennis of Mississippi, Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey and Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico.

Besides Reagan, two other Republican governors were renominated—Robert D. Ray of Iowa, who was unopposed, and Frank Farrar of South Dakota.

In the day's only major upset, Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico was defeated for the Republican senatorial nomination by Anderson Carter, a conservative rancher and oil man, who now faces Montoya, victorious over former state Rep. Richard Edwards.

In New Jersey, Williams, a 2-to-1 victor over state Sen. Frank J. Guarini, will meet Nelson G. Gross, former state Republican chairman who easily whipped two opponents.

Both Williams, who once supported U.S. involvement in Vietnam, and Gross, who broke with President Nixon's Southeast Asia policies over the Cambodia attack, have become opponents of the Indochina war.

But a youthful antiwar candidate, 28-year-old Louis Kaden, was defeated 2-to-1 in a bid to unseat Democratic Rep. Edward J. Patten in a contest that saw involvement of hundreds of students from Princeton, Rutgers and other New Jersey colleges.

A similar outpouring of college-aged youth marked California's Democratic senatorial primary, with some 8,000 student volunteers flocking to Brown's banner.

George C. Wallace has won his bid to recapture Alabama's governorship—the likely prelude to another presidential race in 1972—and Jess Unruh claimed the Democratic nomination against Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Wallace, who overcame a narrow first primary loss, promptly celebrated his victory in Tuesday's Democratic runoff over incumbent Albert P. Brewer by demanding President Nixon "Give us back our schools."

Nearly complete returns gave

Wallace 542,154, Brewer 510,442. In California, Unruh, a slimmed-down version of the man known as "Big Daddy" while speaker of the state's Assembly in the mid-1960s, easily outdistanced Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles. Reagan was unopposed for Republican renomination.

That state's battle of two anti-war Democrats saw Rep. John V. Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, ahead of Rep. George E. Brown Jr., who once threatened to launch impeachment proceedings against President

Nixon because of the U.S. attack into Cambodia.

With 24 per cent of the state's 21,501 precincts counted, Unruh had 394,055 and Yorty 153,054.

Senatorial totals stood: Tunney 253,979, Brown 206,798; Murphy 304,463, Simon 157,098.

The year's busiest political day so far, with balloting in eight states, saw the renomination of four Democratic senators—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, John C. Stennis of Mississippi, Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey and William M. Montoya of New Mexico.

Besides Reagan, two other Republican governors were renominated—Robert D. Ray of Iowa, who was unopposed, and Frank Farrar of South Dakota.

In the day's only major upset, Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico was defeated for the Republican senatorial nomination by Anderson Carter, a conservative rancher and oil man, who now faces Montoya, victorious over former state Rep. Richard Edwards.

In New Jersey, Williams, a 2-to-1 victor over state Sen. Frank J. Guarini, will meet Nelson G. Gross, former state Republican chairman who easily whipped two opponents.

Both Williams, who once supported U.S. involvement in Vietnam, and Gross, who broke with President Nixon's Southeast Asia policies over the Cambodia attack, have become opponents of the Indochina war.

But a youthful antiwar candidate, 28-year-old Louis Kaden, was defeated 2-to-1 in a bid to unseat Democratic Rep. Edward J. Patten in a contest that saw involvement of hundreds of students from Princeton, Rutgers and other New Jersey colleges.

A similar outpouring of college-aged youth marked California's Democratic senatorial primary, with some 8,000 student volunteers flocking to Brown's banner.

Senate Raps Nixon's Knuckles Before TV Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today rejected a proposal to give the President a free hand in Cambodia so long as Communists hold Americans prisoner there.

The setback for the administration came only hours before President Nixon was scheduled to go before a national television-radio audience with what is expected to be an optimistic progress report on the campaign in Cambodia.

The Senate test was on an administration-backed proposal by Kansas Republican Robert J. Dole designed to negate the Cooper-Church amendment that would bar funds for U.S. operations in Cambodia after June 30.

Although defeat of the Dole proposal, which called for allowing the President to use U.S. forces in Cambodia as long as American troops were held prisoner there, had been expected, the action reportedly would not affect Nixon's remarks, scheduled for 9 p.m. EDT.

The President set his speech after meeting with defense and military leaders over the weekend when he reportedly was given optimistic accounts of the month-old Cambodian campaign.

The President's Indochina policy also was under attack in the House today where antiwar members argued for a rider to a bill raising the national debt limit that they said was aimed at forcing a faster withdrawal of U.S. troops from Southeast Asia.

The vote on the Dole proposal was the first real indication of Senate feeling concerning the measure sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to Clear Lockheed Officials Over Sale of Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has cleared Lockheed officials of any illegal action when they sold company stock shortly before unfavorable information became public about the firm's giant C5 jet transport.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a critic of the C5 program, contended in a statement Tuesday the staff report is far more serious than the SEC announcement indicated.

He said the staff report, which was not made public, contained a paragraph saying statements made by Lockheed about its financial condition "did not fully and adequately describe all pertinent factors and it requires much reading between the lines, with knowledge of the underlying circumstances, to catch the issues and the real risks facing this company."

Rep. William A. Moorhead, D-Pa., said five top management people sold 9,071 shares valued at $642,496 between November 1965 and January 1966, shortly before a Senate committee hearing brought out the rising cost of the C5.

Antiwar Forces Eye Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — House war critics, in an effort aimed at speeding withdrawal of American troops from Southeast Asia, opened a drive today to attach a $6 billion defense spending cut to President Nixon's request for a debt ceiling hike.

Before debate opened today, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said his spending cut proposal would "suggest . . . not only that troops should be withdrawn more promptly but that an equivalent number of men should be released from military service."

Backers of Vanik's rider expected defeat, which they said would lead to efforts to kill Nixon's proposed $18 billion increase in the national debt limit to cover expected budget deficits.

They indicated the defense cutting effort was a tough move. "This is playing rough when he approved the move into Cambodia without consultation with Congress—after promising to consult Congress."

The statutory limit on the public debt now stands at $377 billion. The latest increase, $12 billion, was authorized in March 1969. The limit has been raised in most years since the beginning of World War II as spending outstripped revenues, forcing the government to borrow.

Without a congressional intervention, the limit drops automatically July 1 to $365 billion, some $6 billion less than the actual debt. Congress has never permitted such a situation to develop.

The administration now is predicting a deficit of $1.8 billion for the year ending June 30 and $1.3 billion for the succeeding year. These figures are on the unified budget basis, which reflects government borrowing of surpluses in trust funds, such as the Social Security fund.

Such borrowings, however, become part of the national debt, so the federal funds budget, which excludes the trust fund surpluses, is the one that counts in figuring debt ceiling needs.

On the federal funds basis, the deficit is estimated at $11 billion for this year and $10 billion for the next—assuming Nixon's revenue proposals are approved.

The staff of Congress' Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation considers these estimates too optimistic. It has estimated the deficits at $11.3 billion for this year and $12.9 billion for next—or $11.5 billion this year and $16.8 billion next if Congress does not vote the additional revenues, such as the controversial tax on leaded gasoline.

Dole and other administration backers in the Senate have charged the amendment would tie the President's hands and be a vote of no-confidence in his pledge to withdraw troops by June 30 anyway.

OSU Students Relate Actions In Jackson Twp. Fire Trial

The jury trial of W. Richard Hansen was continued into its third day Wednesday in the Pickaway Common Pleas Court.

Donald Greenwood, one of the OSU students involved in the burning of the old schoolhouse in Jackson Twp. owned by Mrs. Harold Hansen, gave his version of the incident in the morning session today.

He testified that Hansen had asked him about a month before the first to burn the building for the insurance, because it was an eyesore and of no real use. The young man confessed to another attempt to set fire to the place two to three weeks before the March 16 blaze.

He affirmed testimony given Tuesday afternoon by another of the students, Ronald Hand, about getting the gasoline used to start the fire from a pump on the Richard Hansen farm that evening. Greenwood said that both times he went up to the house to quiet the Hansen dog, Hansen appeared at the bedroom window and talked to him.

ALL five students then drove in Greenwood's Volkswagen to the building and inspected it before pouring gasoline over the straw stored there. Greenwood claimed that he and another boy constructed a Molotov cocktail and threw it into the building before leaving. They returned a gas container to the Hansen farm, then returned to the OSU campus.

Defense attorney George Tyach questioned both youths carefully about a suspected agreement made prior to the trial by court officials promising them a reduction in charge or sentence if the boys would appear in Hansen's case. Both denied the allegation.

Tuesday afternoon, almost a half hour of testimony given by Keith Wagner, general manager of the General Telephone Co., was stricken from the record when the court decided that his testimony on the operation of phones in the area was not valid. Kathryn Malone, an earlier witness, had testified that her phone was out of order that evening and Greenwood told the jury that he asked Hansen to take the phone off the hook in the first of their conversations that evening.

S. E. Beers, insurance agent for the Pickaway County Farmers Mutual Fire Assn., testified concerning the insurance policy for the building. The claim was canceled soon after it was begun, according to reports.

Hand testified that the boys knew of the burning before they left the campus, but he "didn't think they would go through with it." Greenwood said it was just a spur of the moment decision and had not been planned before leaving OSU about 11 that Monday evening.

The defense presented witnesses in the afternoon session.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has cleared Lockheed officials of any illegal action when they sold company stock shortly before unfavorable information became public about the firm's giant C5 jet transport.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a critic of the C5 program, contended in a statement Tuesday the staff report is far more serious than the SEC announcement indicated.

He said the staff report, which was not made public, contained a paragraph saying statements made by Lockheed about its financial condition "did not fully and adequately describe all pertinent factors and it requires much reading between the lines, with knowledge of the underlying circumstances, to catch the issues and the real risks facing this company."

Rep. William A. Moorhead, D-Pa., said five top management people sold 9,071 shares valued at $642,496 between November 1965 and January 1966, shortly before a Senate committee hearing brought out the rising cost of the C5.

Trading was only moderate in the morning session. Analysts said they drew encouragement from the fact that many investors appeared to be sitting out the selling phase in hopes that the recent strong rally had not yet run its course.

East Ohio Gas To Boost Rates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The average northeast Ohio family served by the East Ohio Gas Co. will see its monthly bill go up about $2 under an agreement reached by the company and protesting cities.

The agreement was disclosed in a stipulation filed Tuesday with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

East Ohio agreed to reduce its original rate increase request from $36 million to $26.4 million, or about 26 per cent.

Although the stipulation is not binding on the PUCO, the commission is expected to approve the settlement.

Antiwar Forces Eye Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — House war critics, in an effort aimed at speeding withdrawal of American troops from Southeast Asia, opened a drive today to attach a $6 billion defense spending cut to President Nixon's request for a debt ceiling hike.

Before debate opened today, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said his spending cut proposal would "suggest... not only that troops should be withdrawn more promptly but that an equivalent number of men should be released from military service."

Backers of Vanik's rider expected defeat, which they said would lead to efforts to kill Nixon's proposed $13 billion increase in the national debt limit to cover expected budget deficits.

They indicated the defense cutting effort was a tough move. "This is playing rough when he approved the move into Cambodia without consultation with Congress—after promising to consult Congress."

The statutory limit on the public debt now stands at $377 billion. The latest increase, $12 billion, was authorized in March 1969. The limit has been raised in most years since the beginning of World War II as spending outstripped revenues, forcing the government to borrow.

Without a congressional intervention, the limit drops automatically July 1 to $365 billion, some $6 billion less than the actual debt.

The administration now is predicting a deficit of $1.8 billion for the year ending June 30 and $1.3 billion for the succeeding year. These figures are on the unified budget basis, which reflects government borrowing of surpluses in trust funds, such as the Social Security fund.

Such borrowings, however, become part of the national debt, so the federal funds budget, which excludes the trust fund surpluses, is the one that counts in figuring debt ceiling needs.

On the federal funds basis, the deficit is estimated at $11 billion for this year and $10 billion for the next—assuming Nixon's revenue proposals are approved.

The staff of Congress' Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation considers these estimates too optimistic. It has estimated the deficits at $11.3 billion for this year and $12.9 billion for next—or $11.5 billion this year and $16.8 billion next if Congress does not vote the additional revenues, such as the controversial tax on leaded gasoline.

Auto Mishaps Bring Arrests

Two separate automobile accidents in Pickaway County Tuesday night injured two and brought citations to two others.

Leeman R. Boggs, 55, of Pedro was cited by Sheriff's Deputy John Bost for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated at 11:48 p.m. when he failed to negotiate a curve on Route 138 in Deer Creek Township.

Carolyn Gatrell, 16, 543 E. Union St. injured her leg and Terry L. Thrasher, 16, Commercial Point, suffered whiplash injuries in a two-car accident at 10 p.m. on Road 511. They were referred to their doctor for treatment.

Miss Thrasher pulled onto Road 511 from the parking lot at Porter's laundry into the path of the Owens auto. Miss Gatrell was a passenger in the Owens car.

Sheriff's Deputy Charles Dolby cited Miss Thrasher for failure to yield the right of way.

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WASHINGTON — It would hardly do to say that Senators who support the Cooper-Church Amendment have suddenly become bereft of their senses. However, one scratches one's head in vain to find any sound rationale for some of the things that the doves are proposing.

Senator Hiram Fong (R., Hawaii) finds the performance of the extreme doves so completely mystifying that he is reduced to the most plaintive sort of questions. For years General Albert Wedemeyer, for instance, has been urging the "Asiatizing" of the Vietnamese War, even going so far as to suggest a Senator Goodell-type terminal date for pulling all our ground troops out of Southeast Asia. However, Wedemeyer has differed from Goodell on one thing: he would make U.S. withdrawal follow a timetable that permits Asians to take up the front-line slack in their own behalf.

U.S. military diplomacy made a major move to satisfy the Wedemeyer requirement when it allowed four thousand ethnic Cambodian soldiers who had been serving with the South Vietnamese to return to their homeland to beef up the pitifully untrained Cambodian Army. Since soldiers must live, the U.S. has continued to pay the ethnic Cambodians. Such a policy of letting allies act to pull one's chestnuts out of the fire has always been followed by prudent nations. During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the British referred to their money-support of foreign troops as "St. George's cavalry." Senator George Aiken, a canny Vermont Yankee, ought to comprehend the common sense of "letting

St. George do it." And Senator Vance Hartke, an equally astute Indiana Hoser, ought to grasp the point even if it eludes Senator Fulbright, who often acts as if he had less sense of self-preservation than a lemming.

I know that Aiken and Hartke are basically intelligent men. So what gives with them? To plagiarize from Winston Churchill, it is a fiddle wrapped inside an enigma.

We return to Senator Fong's plaintive questions. Fong doesn't want to see the U.S. bogged down after the monsoon season in Cambodia any more than Aiken or Hartke or, for that matter, Senator Frank Church or Senator John Sherman Cooper. But he beseeches the doves to tell him why it is a good thing "to deny assistance to Cambodia even if Cambodia is helping our troops."

"Suppose," says Fong, "Cambodian forces were striking an enemy base in Cambodia from which the enemy was attacking U. S. forces in Vietnam. Does the Senate... want to prohibit... any other person from helping Cambodian forces trying to prevent the enemy from killing American troops? It is a good thing for the American people that France did not have a similar prohibition against assistance to our American Revolutionary forces under General George Washington."

What the Senate doves propose doing, so Fong says, is to tell the enemy: "Go ahead. Rebuild those bases. You'll be safe once more. We in the Senate have made sure neither our ground troops nor South Vietnamese ground troops can attack you there, even in time-honored hot pursuit." But it is even worse than this, according to Senator Fong. "After the projected withdrawal... American soldiers delayed in Cambodia... would not even be paid or supplied with food or ammunition... Their families would lose their monthly allotments. And, if I understand it, their widows... would not be entitled to any survivor benefits."

How goofy can a great nation get? Nixon's Cambodian move has resulted in the killing of some eight thousand North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers in Cambodia. At least eight thousand more must have been wounded. Even allowing for some replacements, this means that a third of the forty thousand North Vietnamese-Viet Cong fighting force in Cambodia has been put out of action. And the remainder has been deprived of food sufficient to feed thirty battalions for six months. The weapon haul has been comparable. All of which means that 150,000 U.S. ground troops can be withdrawn from the Asian mainland in fairly quick order without leaving our allies in the lurch.

If Fulbright, McGovern, Goodell, Church, and Cooper can't see this because their vision has been so blurred by emotion that they can't think straight, less emotive doves such as Aiken and Hartke should be able to grasp it. The thing that really gags me is the proposal to stop the pay of the ethnic Cambodians after June 30. This is the final straw. If the Senate votes to do this it would signify that we are being governed by men who have lost every instinct for self-preservation.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A NEWSHAWK, understandably nervous on his first jet before boarding, "Whom do you wish to be notified in case of an emergency?" The newshawk answered, "The pilot."

Two conspicuously atrocious puns from Vancouver's prolific Hymie Koshevoy: 1. To celebrate the opening of a beautiful new Vancouver planetarium, a local school elected to produce a play wherein students would enact the roles of heavenly bodies. A lass named Shirley was chosen to play a minor planet, but demanded that she be given the key part of Sirius, one of the sky's brightest stars. "Nothing doing," barked the director. "Shirley, you CAN'T be Sirius!" ... 2. An office secretary had a lovely face, but try as she would, could not develop a well-rounded figure. She stuffed herself with food from morning to night, but continued to look like a long string bean—especially when viewed from the rear. Heartless co-workers dubbed her "the bottomless pit."

In Brazil, one of Rio's top prison wardens was attacked for allowing his prisoners only one meal a day. His excuse silenced his critics: "If we treated them any better, they'd refuse to leave jail!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

For years I have been interested in the problems of fear and anxiety in most people who visit doctors. Fear of a disease can be more destructive than a disease itself.

Thousands of persons spend their lives "dying" of diseases they will probably never get. Many productive lives can be ruined because so many of these people fail to seek the advice of their doctors.

This is particularly sad because there is so much hope within the frame-work of modern medicine.

The 16 or 18 years of added life given to Americans since the turn of the century are worthless if the beneficiaries of this scientific achievement live in unhappiness.

The elderly must be made to feel loved, wanted and still belonging to society. Their fears are that they are discarded, unwanted members of the family or the community.

Social advances must keep pace with our scientific progress. At a recent meeting of the Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital, a workshop was devoted to the Development of Communication Skills. It was truly a memorable experience.

I was deeply impressed to see not only a large group representing the medical, the nursing and social service departments of the hospital but also representatives of community organizations, even members of the police and fire departments.

They had a single prime purpose: to understand the right fears and anxieties of all patients admitted to a hospital. Out of this workshop came a greater awareness of how each should contribute towards replacing fear and anxiety with encouragement and hope.

Under the direction of the hospital's administrator, Dr. Samuel P. Crucilla, a department was established to study all the psychological and social problems that relate to any patient's hospital experience.

Mrs. Betty Romm, R. N., In-Service Coordinator, said, "The elevator operators, the nurse's aides, the cleaning personnel, all must be given a better insight into the fragile emotions of the hospitalized patient."

Only by such understanding can a terrifying hospital experience for a child, adolescent or adult be made emotionally tolerable.

The Southern Memorial Hospital is truly an oasis in the desert of Las Vegas. It is built of bricks and steel but the mortar that sustains the

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the keystone to the greatness of human life.

A flower without a memory may be still a flower, but a man without a memory is no longer human. He is merely an ambulant vegetable, an echo of his instincts.

Happy is he who can enjoy the garden of his memories without too much sadness, recrimination or regret. You've got a pretty extensive memory garden yourself if you can look back and remember when—

Film star Jimmy Cagney was a Broadway hooper, and Rex Harrison was selling automobiles in London.

You were coming up in the world if you ate in a restaurant that charged a dime instead of a nickel for a glass of beer.

Chorus girls were built more like heifers than ponies.

Mothers didn't have much to say on Monday night because their mouths were sore from holding wooden clothespins all afternoon while they hung up the week's wash to dry on the backyard line.

More horses in America were driven than ridden, and more farmers were gored by bulls than hurt in tractor accidents.

A man could go through life without being told by his doctor that what he needed was more exercise.

It was something of a disgrace for a fellow to lose his job, and if he changed jobs more than once or twice during his working career, he was suspected of being undependable.

No matter how much trouble a husband had with his wife, the neighbors tended to be on his side if he was what they called "a good provider." That was about the highest tribute a married man could receive.

The subject failed most often by high school pupils was Latin. When a middle-aged patient in the 1920's came limping in with a twisted knee, the doctor knew without asking that he had been trying to learn that new-fangled dance—the Charleston.

America passed an unnoticed milestone on the road to plenty when the second family in the block decided to keep a second car—and put in a second bathroom.

A juvenile delinquent was a smart alec kid who sat in the front row during the era of the silent movies and threw spitballs at the lady piano player.

Nine out of 10 American working men felt they would never have a financial worry the rest of their lives if they could ever earn $100 a week.

Those were the days — remember?

Mario Puzo

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mario Puzo, author of the sensation best-selling novel "The Godfather," has been here for the past few weeks working on the script for the movie version.

That's unusual. Ordinarily the last person a studio would consult on the adaptation of a book is the author. That has been true through most of the history of Hollywood.

In the early 1920s, Samuel Goldwyn promoted Eminent Authors' Pictures, with noted novelists such as Rex Beach and Mary Roberts Rinehart in his stable. The idea was that the authors would adapt their own works to the screen.

The scheme flopped, and Goldwyn went back to hiring screen writers to convert books to scenarios.

Most studios have adhered to that policy. Producers reason that the novelist is too close to his story, that he is not willing to cut or to dramatize for cinematic reasons.

When Joseph Heller sold "Catch 22" to Columbia, the deal included his services as script writer. But Columbia sold the rights, and when Mike Nichols prepared the script, he worked with Buck Henry instead.

Some authors prefer not to have anything to do with the studios. David O. Selznick pleaded with Margaret Mitchell to come to Hollywood and help on the script of "Gone with the Wind." She refused.

"If Selznick makes a mess of my book, all my friends in the South will blame me," she reasoned. Her only advice to the producer was in casting. A fan of the Marx Brothers, she suggested that Rhett Butler be played by Groucho.

Some best-selling authors eschew film writing largely for economic reasons. Writers like Harold Robbins, Truman Capote, Irving Stone, Arthur Hailey and Irving Wallace can earn far more by turning out books.

Other authors see film writing as an added source of income. They also are motivated by the desire to prevent their books from being mangled in the film version. Some ask for clauses in their sale contracts that permit them to work on the script.

Producers resist. They have their own concepts of how novels should be filmed, and they don't want author interference. "I think this prejudice against novelists is well-founded," said "Godfather" producer Al Ruddy. "The author usually wants to compress his 450-page novel into a 150-page shooting script without losing a character."

Why the exception with Puzo, who has not done a screenplay before?

"In Mr. Puzo, we've found a man who's a consummate professional writer. He knows changes must be made for the screen. He doesn't trip over his own ego like other writers. I think we're working beautifully together to bring out on film the drama of his story."

The Business World

By KENT STURGIS (For John Cuniff)

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — It's beer instead of cocktails at night clubs, businessmen go out to lunch more often but stay home at night and apartment "for rent" signs are as thick as evergreen trees.

These are the symptoms of recession in Seattle and surrounding King County, home for about 1.1 million persons, where the Boeing Co. is king.

Airplanes are to Seattle what gambling is to Las Vegas. When Boeing business is down, everybody feels the pinch.

The restaurant and night club business is typical.

"People are tipping less and instead of drinking cocktails, they're ordering beer," complains a downtown bartender. "And instead of two or three, they'll have one and out the door they go."

Luncheon business has jumped in the city's restaurants, according to Stephanie Slater of the State Restaurant Association. At the same time, she said, there's been a decline in evening trade.

"Businessmen evidently are still going out to lunch with clients and business associates, maybe on expense accounts, but not spending money at home to take the wife and kids out," she said.

The Boeing Co., which delivered 56 jets in the first quarter of 1970 compared with 96 during the same period last year, has laid off about 20,000 workers since Jan. 1. During all of last year Boeing laid off 14,400. The firm's payroll now stands at $67,700.

There are about 2 1/2 times more people out of work here now than at this time in 1969. The State Department of Employment Security put the April unemployment figure at 50,700.

War-time uses for discarded steel drums were limited only by GI ingenuity. They served as makeshift showers on New Guinea and cook stoves in the Aleutians. Filled with concrete, they became foundation pillars for jungle huts. Empty, with top and bottom removed, they were joined to form drainage conduit.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

This letter is for the people of Circleville who are always bringing up complaints about the new Group Home for girls.

One of the most common complaints is that which states the girls have too much freedom. This is not so. We are able to go out on dates on Friday and Saturday nights and have to be in at eleven o'clock unless we have special permission to stay out later. Sundays are supposed to be the day of our family get-togethers. I am fortunate to have some family but many of the girls do not, so all they have to do is walk uptown or go somewhere with an adult who volunteers to take her. Lots of girls living elsewhere are out every night with their boyfriends. Sometimes you see some of us uptown during the week with boys. Let me fill you in. Those are only friends. I repeat, just friends. We are friendly with everyone and have many friends and we usually run into one or two of them when we go uptown.

Another complaint is the one who says we should have to walk to school because their money is paying for the car we use and that their children have to walk. Why not check sometime on the students who do walk to school. I think you will find that among those living the same distance from school as we do that very few walk. Really it's just now getting to be nice weather, so give us time.

This home has not been perfect but no home is. Some of us have had trouble, especially me, but we are trying to live over that and steer right. We want another chance to prove this is going to be a real home. But we cannot do it with you running us down for our past mistakes. Your children are not perfect, I'm sure. I know I pulled a lot on my Mom that I could not pull on my houseparent or caseworker. We really have very bright and considerate adults watching over us.

This is all I have to say. We are sorry if we have offended you in any way, but there are human beings living in this home, not just girls who have had rough lives and came here to live through no choice of their own. We've made mistakes, but we are willing to do over those if you will let us do so.

I think it would be best to complain about something more important like the need of more doctors or a doctor at the hospital at all times, or more places for entertainment for the teenagers, or more part-time job opportunities for students. Make your complaints worthwhile.

Thank you for your time.

Is Survival Instinct Lost?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
WASHINGTON — It is hardly too much to say that Senators who support the Cooper-Church Amendment have suddenly become bereft of their senses. However, one scratches one's head in vain to find any sound rationale for some of the things that the doves are proposing.

Senator Hiram Fong (R., Hawaii) finds the performance of the extreme doves so completely mystifying that he is reduced to the most plaintive sort of questions. For years General Albert Wedemeyer, for instance, has been urging the "Asiatizing" of the Vietnamese War, even going so far as to suggest a Senator Goodell-type terminal date for pulling all our ground troops out of Southeast Asia. However, Wedemeyer has differed from Goodell on one thing: he would make U.S. withdrawal follow a timetable that permits Asians to take up the front-line slack in their own behalf.

U.S. military diplomacy made a major move to satisfy the Wedemeyer requirement when it allowed four thousand ethnic Cambodian soldiers who had been serving with the South Vietnamese to return to their homeland to beef up the pitifully untrained Cambodian Army. Since soldiers must live, the U.S. has continued to pay the ethnic Cambodians. Such a policy of letting allies eat the fire has always been followed by prudent nations. During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the British referred to their money-support of foreign troops as "St. George's cavalry." Senator George Aiken, a canny Vermont Yankee, ought to comprehend the common sense of "letting

St. George do it." And Senator Vance Hartke, an equally astute Indiana Hoser, ought to grasp the point even if it eludes Senator Fulbright, who often acts as if he had less sense of self-preservation than a lemming.

I know that Aiken and Hartke are basically intelligent men. So what gives with them? To plagiarize from Winston Churchill, it is a fiddle wrapped inside an enigma.

We return to Senator Fong's plaintive questions. Fong doesn't want to see the U.S. bogged down after the monsoon season in Cambodia any more than Aiken or Hartke or, for that matter, Senator Frank Church or Senator John Sherman Cooper. But he beseeches the doves to tell him why it is a good thing "to deny assistance to Cambodia even if Cambodia is helping our troops."

"Suppose," says Fong, "Cambodian forces were striking an enemy base in Cambodia from which the enemy was attacking U. S. forces in Vietnam. Does the Senate... want to prohibit... any other person from helping Cambodian forces trying to prevent the enemy from killing American troops? It is a good thing for the American people that France did not have a similar prohibition against assistance to our American Revolutionary forces under General George Washington."

What the Senate doves propose doing, so Fong says, is to tell the enemy: "Go ahead. Rebuild those bases. You'll be safe once more. We in the Senate have made sure neither our ground troops nor South Vietnamese ground troops can attack you there, even in time-honored hot pursuit." But it is even worse than this, according to Senator Fong. "After the projected withdrawal... American soldiers delayed in Cambodia... would not even be paid or supplied with food or ammunition... Their families would lose their monthly allotments. And, if I understand it, their widows... would not be entitled to any survivor benefits."

How goofy can a great nation get? Nixon's Cambodian move has resulted in the killing of some eight thousand North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers in Cambodia. At least eight thousand more must have been wounded. Even allowing for some replacements, this means that a third of the forty thousand North Vietnamese-Viet Cong fighting force in Cambodia has been put out of action. And the remainder has been deprived of food sufficient to feed thirty battalions for six months. The weapon haul has been comparable. All of which means that 150,000 U.S. ground troops can be withdrawn from the Asian mainland in fairly quick order without leaving our allies in the lurch.

If Fulbright, McGovern, Goodell, Church, and Cooper can't see this because their vision has been so blurred by emotion that they can't think straight, less emotive doves such as Aiken and Hartke should be able to grasp it. The thing that really gags me is the proposal to stop the pay of the ethnic Cambodians after June 30. This is the final straw. If the Senate votes to do this it would signify that we are being governed by men who have lost every instinct for self-preservation.

Two conspicuously atrocious puns from Vancouver's prolific Hymie Koshovoy: 1. To celebrate the opening of a beautiful new Vancouver planetarium, a local school elected to produce a play wherein students would enact the roles of heavenly bodies. A lass named Shirley was chosen to play a minor planet, but demanded that she be given the key part of Sirius, one of the sky's brightest stars. "Nothing doing," barked the director. "Shirley, you CAN'T be Sirius!" ... 2. An office secretary had a lovely face, but try as she would, could not develop a well-rounded figure. She stuffed herself with food from morning to night, but continued to look like a long string bean—especially when viewed from the rear. Heartless co-workers dubbed her "the bottomless pit."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

For years I have been interested in the problems of fear and anxiety in most people who visit doctors. Fear of a disease can be more destructive than a disease itself.

Thousands of persons spend their lives "dying" of diseases they will probably never get. Many productive lives can be ruined because so many of these people fail to seek the advice of their doctors.

This is particularly sad because there is so much hope within the frame-work of modern medicine.

The 16 or 18 years of added life given to Americans since the turn of the century are worthless if the beneficiaries of this scientific achievement live in unhappiness.

The elderly must be made to feel loved, wanted and still belonging to society. Their fears are that they are discarded, unwanted members of the family or the community.

Social advances must keep pace with our scientific progress. At a recent meeting of the Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital, a workshop was devoted to the Development of Communication Skills. It was truly a memorable experience.

I was deeply impressed to see not only a large group representing the medical, the nursing and social service departments of the hospital but also representatives of community organizations, even members of the police and fire departments.

They had a single prime purpose: to understand the rightful fears and anxieties of all patients admitted to a hospital. Out of this workshop came a greater awareness of how each should contribute towards replacing fear and anxiety with encouragement and hope.

Under the direction of the hospital's administrator, Dr. Samuel P. Crucilla, a department was established to study all the psychological and social problems that relate to any patient's hospital experience.

Mrs. Betty Romm, R. N., In-Service Coordinator, said, "The elevator operators, the nurse's aides, the cleaning personnel, all must be given a better insight into the fragile emotions of the hospitalized patient."

Only by such understanding can a terrifying hospital experience for a child, adolescent or adult be made emotionally tolerable.

The Southern Memorial Hospital is truly an oasis in the desert of Las Vegas. It is built of bricks and steel but the mortar that sustains the

Campus Press Filled With 4-Letter Words

EDITOR'S NOTE—The campus press used to abound in four-letter words like 'soph' and 'prom' and 'frat'. It still does but now they're pure Anglo-Saxon as college editors are telling it like it is. Here is a look at the situation from the AP Living Today department.

By DICK BLYSTONE
Associated Press Writer
Youth doesn't always say it with flowers. And the collegiate press is getting and passing the word. The four-letter word.

At age 97, the Harvard Crimson does not blush to print an occasional --- or ---, to unmention just a couple.

In turbulent Berkeley, it's not uncommon to find --- in the angry, Anglo-Saxon flesh anywhere from the editorial page to the sports section of the University of California Daily Californian.

Even on more tranquil campuses, young editors covering an era of heightened social and political passions are spurning genteel circumlocutions and discreet dashes and coming right out with it.

The editors operate under a range of circumstances—from complete financial and editorial independence, as at Harvard, to ultimate accountability to a publications board, as at Kansas State University or the University of Alabama.

Most of those questioned say they rarely if ever feel pressure from authority to leave out four-letter words.

"Nowadays these words have about the shock impact of 'damn,' if that much," says Terry Hill, editor of the Daily Californian editorial page.

"These words are part of the vernacular that the people we're writing for use. We don't go out of our way to use them. But it would be awkward to try to write around so-called dirty words, it would be dishonest and it certainly wouldn't be fair to the readership. The form and content of what people say are pretty well related."

The Californian receives about 40 per cent of its budget through the university but editors say they are free to set their own policy.

Ronald Janis, outgoing executive editor of the Harvard Crimson, says no word is forbidden for the paper, and if there is an objection "the burden of proof would be on the person who wanted to take it out."

"I think we use these words because they're used all the time in daily communication. It certainly doesn't offend any of our student readers."

"I think the obscenity issue is a sham," says Rena Steinzor, editor in chief of the University of Wisconsin Daily Cardinal. "I don't see any reason why the media cannot speak the way the people speak."

Nonetheless, Miss Steinzor says, the paper avoids using four-letter words wherever possible.

"Last year we were embroiled in a big controversy with the state regents over the use of four-letter words, which resulted in our being assessed rent for the office space we have at the university. We decided afterward that the hassle just wasn't worth it."

"We don't have any written policy," says A. Messerschmidt, editor of Kansas State University's K-State Collegian. "We look at the value of the word. Does it really contribute anything to the story? Is there a better way to make the same point?"

"There are instances where one four-letter word would make a better point than two columns of rhetoric," Meserschmidt says, "but we don't get to that point very often here."

James Morris, director of student publications at Kansas State, says: "We have never prohibited the students from using such words, but we have tried to get around this by discussing it at length with the editors and seeing if it will serve any useful purpose."

Messerschmidt, like many college editors, scorns paraphrasing or blanking out just to avoid using a four-letter word.

"I think it's ridiculous for major publications to use, say, 'blank-blank.' Who are they trying to protect?"

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Perfect For Her — But Not Quite

DEAR ABBY: I go with this guy who says he loves me, but listen to this. Every time he shows up, he has garlic or onions on his breath and he knows how much I hate it because I have told him so. No amount of chewing gum, breath freshener, or mouthwash helps. A breath like that really turns me off, Abby. What do you think I should do about it? Don't tell me to find another boyfriend because he is perfect for me in every way but this.

DEBBIE IN THE BRONX
DEAR DEBBIE: Beware of a guy who says he "loves" you but can't resist food that leaves his breath less than lovely. He is obviously more concerned with his own pleasure than yours. Now if you are willing to settle for a "perfect guy" with just one "fault," you have him.

DEAR ABBY: After going steady with Melvin for three years, we announced our engagement officially, and I started making plans for my wedding.

I thought Melvin's mother would make a perfect mother-in-law because she was always so nice to my face, but listen to this: She called up my mother and said, "I hope Cindy (that's me) won't wear false eyelashes on her wedding day, and please tell her in a nice way that those false hair pieces she should please leave in the drawer, too."

(Abby, I have some very nice hair pieces which Melvin likes on me.) Not knowing what else to say, my mother said, "I will give Cindy the message."

What right has Melvin's mother to tell me how to look on my wedding day? I don't want trouble with her because I love Melvin, but what is your opinion of such a lady?

MELVIN'S BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: I think Melvin's mother is treating you like a "daughter" already.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your answers, but I disagree with your reply to "THINKING IT OVER." (Her husband is sterile and opposed to artificial insemination, but she wants to be the baby's "natural" mother in preference to adopting a child.) You said, "Tell him that it's easy to be a father, it's more difficult to be a man."

Since "THINKING'S" husband is against the idea of artificial insemination (and I happen to agree with him) then why, for pity's sake, can't this woman bring herself to open her heart to a homeless child who is already on this overpopulated earth?

Rise In Road Show Revenue Offsets Broadway Decline

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There were fewer shows and fewer spectators on Broadway during the 1969-70 theater year, but some cheerier trends were evident too in the world of drama, comedy and musicals.

Countering a $4.5-million dip from the previous season's record Broadway boxoffice of $58 million, commercial road companies grossed $48 million, a 10 per cent jump from 1968-69.

Off-Broadway, with lower costs attracting several major producers, boomed with 97 shows, including both the Pulitzer and Critics Circle prize plays in the entertainment year which traditionally ends May 31.

Soaring expenses made it apparent at least that fewer shows of hopelessly artistic but dubious boxoffice merit would be risked on Broadway.

Significant too was the fact that among 40 productions sponsored by commercial managers, six were revivals of old hits with "Harvey" especially demonstrating the pull of such when decorated with stars such as Jimmy Stewart and Helen Hayes. Altogether, stage shows played a total of 970 performance weeks, compared to 1,100 the previous year.

In general, the backers who posted about $12 million for Broadway productions found the odds on picking a winner were still about one in four. Another $5 million backed 97 offerings off-Broadway, where the odds were about one in seven.

The balance sheet on total Broadway endeavor during the season must include, of course, the payoffs that continue to be racked up by eight long-run bonanzas, including "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Hello, Dolly!"

The five biggest winners, still running, of Broadway's 1969-70 year include the musicals "Applause," "Coco" and "Company" and two comedies, "Butterflies Are Free" and "Last of the Red Hot Lovers." Still going with chances of recouping costs are two other musicals, "The Boy Friend" and "Purlie," and two dramas, "Borstal Boy" and "Child's Play."

Already closed at a profit are "The Front Page," "Harvey," "Our Town" and "Private Lives."

Shows that failed to click with critics or public immediately found little disposition on the part of sponsors to dally. Sixteen shows closed within a week, five after a single performance.

747 Engines Need Modified, Boeing Reports

SEATTLE (AP) — A Boeing spokesman says a flaw has developed in some of the new engines being supplied for the company's 747 jumbo jet airliners.

The Pratt & Whitney JT9D engines recently installed in a dozen or so of the 44 jumbo jets the firm has delivered to airlines are subject to turbine blade failure, the spokesman said Monday.

The spokesman said the Federal Aviation Administration has ordered fleetwide inspections.

Boeing said the engine maker has begun modification of the engines.

Campus Press Filled With 4-Letter Words

EDITOR'S NOTE—The campus press used to abound in four-letter words like 'soph' and 'prom' and 'frat'. It still does but now they're pure Anglo-Saxon as collegiate editors are telling it like it is. Here is a look at the situation from the AP Living Today department.

By DICK BLYSTONE
Associated Press Writer

Youth doesn't always say it with flowers. And the collegiate press is getting and passing the word. The four-letter word.

At age 97, the Harvard Crimson does not blush to print an occasional — or —, to unmention just a couple.

In turbulent Berkeley, it's not uncommon to find — in the angry, Anglo-Saxon flesh anywhere from the editorial page to the sports section of the University of California Daily Californian.

Even on more tranquil campuses, young editors covering an era of heightened social and political passions are spurning genteel circumlocutions and discreet dashes and coming right out with it.

The editors operate under a range of circumstances—from complete financial and editorial independence, as at Harvard, to ultimate accountability to a publications board, as at Kansas State University or the University of Alabama.

Most of those questioned say they rarely if ever feel pressure from authority to leave out four-letter words.

"Nowadays these words have about the shock impact of 'damn,' if that much," says Terry Hill, editor of the Daily Californian editorial page.

"These words are part of the vernacular that the people we're writing for use. We don't go out of our way to use them. But it would be awkward to try to write around so-called dirty words, it would be dishonest and it certainly wouldn't be fair to the readership. The form and content of what people say are pretty well related."

The Californian receives about 40 per cent of its budget through the university but editors say they are free to set their own policy.

Ronald Janis, outgoing executive editor of the Harvard Crimson, says no word is forbidden for the paper, and if there is an objection "the burden of proof would be on the person who wanted to take it out."

"I think we use these words because they're used all the time in daily communication. It certainly doesn't offend any of our student readers."

"I think the obscenity issue is a sham," says Rena Steinzor, editor in chief of the University of Wisconsin Daily Cardinal. "I don't see any reason why the media cannot speak the way the people speak."

Nonetheless, Miss Steinzor says, the paper avoids using four-letter words wherever possible.

"Last year we were embroiled in a big controversy with the state regents over the use of four-letter words, which resulted in our being assessed rent for the office space we have at the university. We decided afterward that the hassle just wasn't worth it."

"We don't have any written policy," says A. Messerschmidt, editor of Kansas State University's K-State Collegian. "We look at the value of the word. Does it really contribute anything to the story? Is there a better way to make the same point?"

"There are instances where one four-letter word would make a better point than two columns of rhetoric," Meserschmidt says, "but we don't get to that point very often here."

James Morris, director of student publications at Kansas State, says: "We have never prohibited the students from using such words, but we have tried to get around this by discussing it at length with the editors and seeing if it will serve any useful purpose."

Messerschmidt, like many college editors, scorns paraphrasing or blanking out just to avoid using a four-letter word.

Ohio AFL-CIO Eyes Plan For Auto Insurance Firm

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the biennial convention of the Ohio AFL-CIO will consider a proposal for setting up their own nonprofit auto insurance firm at Thursday's business sessions.

If the 1,800 delegates approve the proposal, it is believed this will be the first time a labor organization has taken such a step in this country.

Warren J. Smith, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, presented a report Tuesday stating that the 750,000 members of AFL-CIO affiliates in Ohio could save an average of $50 a year on their insurance if the union goes into the business.

He said the savings would amount to 15 to 20 per cent. Smith told the delegates the federation has protested for years against what he termed exorbitant rates charged by private insurance companies but has failed to stir the state government to action.

He said a nonprofit corporation could be set up by the AFL-CIO and financed by sale of stock.

The organizers would have to put up at least $250,000 as a deposit before stock could be sold, he said.

Solicitation would be by mail to union members, thereby cutting out agents, Smith said. An agency would be hired to handle claims.

The delegates also will consider proposed resolutions on the war in Southeast Asia. One resolution would ask George Meany, national AFL-CIO president, to reconsider support of President Nixon's policy on Vietnam and Cambodia.

A stronger resolution submitted by the Meat Cutters Union calls for the immediate or speeded up withdrawal of troops in Southeast Asia.

Frank King was re-elected president unanimously, and the delegates approved a constitutional change extending officers' terms from two to four years. King was unopposed for the presidency.

K Of C Elects Officers For Coming Year

Election of officers and announcement of state awards highlighted the meeting Monday evening of Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held in the council rooms on Pickaway Street.

Grand Knight Roger McConnell was elected to serve a second term as head of the local council. His officers include: Frank Plescia, Deputy Grand Knight; Msgr. George Buchmann, chaplain; Edward Riley, chancellor; Richard Theis, recorder; William Mehalick, treasurer; Ralph May, advocate; Victor Riffe, warden; Myron Schell, inside guard; Michael Stonerock, outside guard and Dallas Elliott Jr., trustee.

District Deputy Stan Stevens reported on awards presented at the State K of C convention held May 23 and 24 in Cincinnati. Hannan Council 5297 was awarded first place and $150 in general program activities for the Diocese of Columbus. The local council also received a plaque and $50 for making star council in membership drive.

Frank Plescia received an award for having been selected a candidate for Knight of the Year in the State of Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Plescia and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Elliott Jr. attended the convention as delegates from the local council.

The Circleville K of C bowling team won third place in a state tournament held last month in Toledo, with a score of 2925 scratch. The team also placed ninth in a five-man handicap team with a score of 3132. The team included: George Ebrecht, James McConnell, Richard Baranick, Larry Dietrich and Roger McConnell.

Get Flood Insurance

VERMILION, Ohio (AP) — Vermilion is the first city in Ohio to qualify for federally sponsored flood-damage insurance, the Insurance Board of Cleveland announced Tuesday.

Flood-damage insurance was unavailable previously in Ohio because of the limited number of areas where it was desired and the huge potential risk of loss, according to Clinton L. Templeton, executive vice president of the Insurance Board.

Templeton said persons or companies that do not take advantage of the emergency flood insurance program would not be eligible for federal disaster aid.

The program is operated by the property insurance industry in cooperation with the federal government, he said.

Some 200 businesses and dwellings in Vermilion are exposed to potential flood damage.

2-Month-Old Truck Strike Loss Nears $1 Billion Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — Business losses in a Chicago trucking strike almost two months old may be nearing the $1-billion mark and laid-off workers are losing millions a day in wages.

But household necessities such as milk, eggs and bread are still available. Says Ted Anastas, an attorney for the trucking industry:

"If food wouldn't be delivered because of a truck strike we'd have the women burning the town down."

About 15,000 trucks belonging to smaller firms continue to deliver the daily essentials of life.

But 35,000 huge tractor trailer rigs and other trucks belonging to the city's leading carriers were idle.

So far, the wholesalers, businesses with marginal inventories and small manufacturers have taken the brunt of the economic loss which the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry estimates at $900 million since April 9.

The combined strike and lock-out involving Teamsters Union Locals 705 and 710 and the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union began April 9 when the drivers pushed for a $1.65 an hour wage increase over their present $4.10 an hour.

A spokesman for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry said the stoppage may harm Chicago's reputation as a center for truck traffic and as a national supplier of commodities.

"When this is over we're going to have a selling job on our hands," he said. "If the strike continues much longer some businesses will set up new paths of supply and transportation which will circumvent Chicago."

President Nixon ordered Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz to enter the dispute last

Thursday in an effort to bring the unions and industry to the bargaining table.

Shultz dispatched his chief mediator to the city and said the dispute "is a matter of serious concern to the administration."

The Association of Commerce and Industry says there have been 170,000 layoffs in a wide range of businesses and industries, a $7 million a day payroll loss and more than 65,500 persons who have claimed unemployment benefits because of the dispute.

A Teamsters spokesman claimed that many of the economic loss figures were inflated, although he acknowledged that the dispute was costing Chicago a great deal of money.

"These announcements of economic losses are just more pressure tactics," the spokesman said.

"Of course, people are getting hurt. In every labor dispute some people get hurt, but the drivers are suffering too. Still, they're determined to get an acceptable contract."

Ohio AFL-CIO Eyes Plan For Auto Insurance Firm

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the biennial convention of the Ohio AFL-CIO will consider a proposal for setting up their own nonprofit auto insurance firm at Thursday's business sessions.

If the 1,800 delegates approve the proposal, it is believed this will be the first time a labor organization has taken such a step in this country.

Warren J. Smith, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, presented a report Tuesday stating that the 750,000 members of AFL-CIO affiliates in Ohio could save an average of $50 a year on their insurance if the union goes into the business.

He said the savings would amount to 15 to 20 per cent. Smith told the delegates the federation has protested for years against what he termed exorbitant rates charged by private insurance companies but has failed to stir the state government to action.

He said a nonprofit corporation could be set up by the AFL-CIO and financed by sale of stock.

The organizers would have to put up at least $250,000 as a deposit before stock could be sold, he said.

Solicitation would be by mail to union members, thereby cutting out agents, Smith said. An agency would be hired to handle claims.

The delegates also will consider proposed resolutions on the war in Southeast Asia. One resolution would ask George Meany, national AFL-CIO president, to reconsider support of President Nixon's policy on Vietnam and Cambodia.

A stronger resolution submitted by the Meat Cutters Union calls for the immediate or speeded up withdrawal of troops in Southeast Asia.

Frank King was re-elected president unanimously, and the delegates approved a constitutional change extending officers' terms from two to four years. King was unopposed for the presidency.

K Of C Elects Officers For Coming Year

Election of officers and announcement of state awards highlighted the meeting Monday evening of Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held in the council rooms on Pickaway Street.

Grand Knight Roger McConnell was elected to serve a second term as head of the local council. His officers include: Frank Plescia, Deputy Grand Knight; Msgr. George Buchmann, chaplain; Edward Riley, chancellor; Richard Theis, recorder; William Mehalick, treasurer; Ralph May, advocate; Victor Riffe, warden; Myron Schell, inside guard; Michael Stonerock, outside guard and Dallas Elliott Jr., trustee.

District Deputy Stan Stevens reported on awards presented at the State K of C convention held May 23 and 24 in Cincinnati. Hannan Council 5297 was awarded first place and $150 in general program activities for the Diocese of Columbus. The local council also received a plaque and $50 for making star council in membership drive.

Frank Plescia received an award for having been selected a candidate for Knight of the Year in the State of Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Plescia and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Elliott Jr. attended the convention as delegates from the local council.

The Circleville K of C bowling team won third place in a state tournament held last month in Toledo, with a score of 2925 scratch. The team also placed ninth in a five-man handicap team with a score of 3132. The team included: George Ebrecht, James McConnell, Richard Baranick, Larry Dietrich and Roger McConnell.

2-Month-Old Truck Strike Loss Nears $1 Billion Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — Business losses in a Chicago trucking strike almost two months old may be nearing the $1-billion mark and laid-off workers are losing millions a day in wages. But household necessities such as milk, eggs and bread are still available. Says Ted Anastos, an attorney for the trucking industry:

"If food wouldn't be delivered because of a truck strike we'd have the women burning the town down."

About 15,000 trucks belonging to smaller firms continue to deliver the daily essentials of life.

But 35,000 huge tractor trailer rigs and other trucks belonging to the city's leading carriers were idle.

So far, the wholesalers, businesses with marginal inventories and small manufacturers have taken the brunt of the economic loss which the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry estimates at $900 million since April 9.

The combined strike and lock-out involving Teamsters Union Locals 705 and 710 and the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union began April 9 when the drivers pushed for a $1.65 an hour wage increase over their present $4.10 an hour.

A spokesman for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry said the stoppage may harm Chicago's reputation as a center for truck traffic and as a national supplier of commodities.

"When this is over we're going to have a selling job on our hands," he said. "If the strike continues much longer some businesses will set up new paths of supply and transportation which will circumvent Chicago."

President Nixon ordered Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz to enter the dispute last

Thursday in an effort to bring the unions and industry to the bargaining table.

Shultz dispatched his chief mediator to the city and said the dispute "is a matter of serious concern to the administration."

The Association of Commerce and Industry says there have been 170,000 layoffs in a wide range of businesses and industries, a $7 million a day payroll loss and more than 65,000 persons who have claimed unemployment benefits because of the dispute.

A Teamsters spokesman claimed that many of the economic loss figures were inflated, although he acknowledged that the dispute was costing Chicago a great deal of money.

"These announcements of economic losses are just more pressure tactics," the spokesman said.

"Of course, people are getting hurt. In every labor dispute some people get hurt, but the drivers are suffering too. Still, they're determined to get an acceptable contract."

Many of the drivers, who get only a nominal strike benefit check each week, have begun working as taxi drivers and drivers for firms which have signed with the unions.

Industry sources said others had hired out independently to merchants.

Ford Rejects Air Bag Use As Not Yet Fully Effective

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has given a flat "no" to a federal government proposal that 1973 cars be equipped with an air bag system to protect occupants in event of a crash.

Ford's unqualified rejection was the strongest voiced yet in the auto industry.

General Motors earlier had called the plan "technically feasible" but said there was no way of meeting the 1973 timetable.

Stuart M. Frey, chief body engineer of Ford, said Monday, "Ford is as anxious as anyone to halt the death toll on the highways, but even if we did have a developed air bag system, which we do not have now, we could not meet the proposed effective dates for installations in cars."

Ford's statement was issued in advance of a June 24 conference in Washington at which government and industry will exchange views on the air bag system.

Ford gave 50 magazine writers a first hand look at the system Monday.

A film clip showed a test car equipped with air bags colliding head-on with another car at 30 miles an hour.

The bag failed to inflate fast enough to keep a boy-sized dummy in the right front passenger seat from crashing into the car windshield.

"If that had been a real boy and a real collision, that boy would have been killed," said Frey.

A second test involved touching off an air bag system as newsmen gathered around the car. The noise, louder than that of a shotgun, was followed by inflation of the nine-foot balloon-like bag in a fraction of a second.

The force of the expansion of the bag, which was attached to the underside of the instrument panel, pulled the panel out of shape and the bag was shredded.

"You have to remember that the test you saw involved only an air bag system protecting one of the car occupants," said Frey.

"The federal government's proposal would have a separate air bag system for each occupant and thus when the system was touched off, the force released could damage the car interior considerably."

Frey said Ford had had active study programs under way in the air bag field since 1957 but is convinced it has not found all the answers yet.

He declared: "What must be avoided at all costs, then, is letting enthusiasm cause premature installations of relatively unproved and inadequately developed air bag systems in future cars.

"Any system as potentially dangerous as the air bag if it fires inadvertently must have a system reliability better than a space craft."

Harold Wilson Target Of Egg

LONDON (AP) — A heckler got Prime Minister Harold Wilson right between the eyes with an egg at a political rally.

The egg was thrown during a Monday night meeting in suburban Harrow, where Wilson was appealing for votes for his Labor party in the June 18 national election. Wilson calmly brushed the egg droppings away and walked off to a nearby party headquarters.

Report GI Faces Trial In Knifing

NEW YORK (AP) — An 18-year-old private is awaiting court-martial for attempted murder in the wake of alleged Ku Klux Klan activities at a U.S. Army post in West Germany, the New York Daily News reported Tuesday.

The report followed a demand Monday by Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., for a congressional investigation of an alleged 47-man KKK klavern.

The Army said Monday that it had investigated but found no evidence that a klavern existed at the post, the headquarters of the 14th Armored Cavalry at Fulda, near the East German border.

The News, however, said that Pvt. Carlos R. Hernandez Rodriguez of New York "is awaiting trial in Germany on charges growing out of a knife fight with an alleged KKK member who belonged to his unit."

The newspaper said this information was brought to its attention by John Van Hook, 20, a friend of Rodriguez, who produced a letter in which the Puerto Rican private told of his troubles with a white soldier.

It quoted this excerpt from the letter:

"He belonged to the KKK and he was trying to use me. He called me a nigger lover and all that. He even wrote or painted on my bedsheets and I quote, 'Nigger lover, stay away from them or you will be next, signed KKK.'"

The News said Rodriguez told Van Hook in the letter that his superiors did not act on his complaints and the harassment continued, ending in the fight and attempted murder charge.

Ford Rejects Air Bag Use As Not Yet Fully Effective

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has given a flat "no" to a federal government proposal that 1973 cars be equipped with an air bag system to protect occupants in event of a crash.

Ford's unqualified rejection was the strongest voiced yet in the auto industry.

General Motors earlier had called the plan "technically feasible" but said there was no way of meeting the 1973 timetable.

Stuart M. Frey, chief body engineer of Ford, said Monday, "Ford is as anxious as anyone to halt the death toll on the highways, but even if we did have a developed air bag system, which we do not have now, we could not meet the proposed effective dates for installations in cars."

Ford's statement was issued in advance of a June 24 conference in Washington at which government and industry will exchange views on the air bag system.

Ford gave 50 magazine writers a first hand look at the system Monday.

A film clip showed a test car equipped with air bags colliding head-on with another car at 30 miles an hour.

The bag failed to inflate fast enough to keep a boy-sized dummy in the right front passenger seat from crashing into the car windshield.

"If that had been a real boy and a real collision, that boy would have been killed," said Frey.

A second test involved touching off an air bag system as newsmen gathered around the car. The noise, louder than that of a shotgun, was followed by inflation of the nine-foot balloon-like bag in a fraction of a second.

The force of the expansion of the bag, which was attached to the underside of the instrument panel, pulled the panel out of shape and the bag was shredded.

"You have to remember that the test you saw involved only an air bag system protecting one of the car occupants," said Frey.

"The federal government's proposal would have a separate air bag system for each occupant and thus when the system was touched off, the force released could damage the car interior considerably."

Frey said Ford had had active study programs under way in the air bag field since 1957 but is convinced it has not found all the answers yet.

He declared: "What must be avoided at all costs, then, is letting enthusiasm cause premature installations of relatively unproved and inadequately developed air bag systems in future cars.

"Any system as potentially dangerous as the air bag if it fires inadvertently must have a system reliability better than a space craft."

Harold Wilson Target Of Egg

LONDON (AP) — A heckler got Prime Minister Harold Wilson right between the eyes with an egg at a political rally.

The egg was thrown during a Monday night meeting in suburban Harrow, where Wilson was appealing for votes for his Labor party in the June 18 national election.

Wilson calmly brushed the egg droppings away and walked off to a nearby party headquarters.

Report GI Faces Trial In Knifing

NEW YORK (AP) — An 18-year-old private is awaiting court-martial for attempted murder in the wake of alleged Ku Klux Klan activities at a U.S. Army post in West Germany, the New York Daily News reported Tuesday.

The report followed a demand Monday by Rep. Seymour Halpern, R-N.Y., for a congressional investigation of an alleged 47-man KKK klavern.

The Army said Monday that it had investigated but found no evidence that a klavern existed at the post, the headquarters of the 14th Armored Cavalry at Fulda, near the East German border.

The News, however, said that Pvt. Carlos R. Hernandez Rodriguez of New York "is awaiting trial in Germany on charges growing out of a knife fight with an alleged KKK member who belonged to his unit."

The newspaper said this information was brought to its attention by John Van Hook, 20, a friend of Rodriguez', who produced a letter in which the Puerto Rican private told of his troubles with a white soldier.

It quoted this excerpt from the letter:

"He belonged to the KKK and he was trying to use me. He called me a nigger lover and all that. He even wrote or painted on my bedsheets and I quote, 'Nigger lover, stay away from them or you will be next, signed KKK.'"

The News said Rodriguez told Van Hook in the letter that his superiors did not act on his complaints and the harassment continued, ending in the fight and attempted murder charge.

Boat Readied For Trips On Ohio Canal

The first completely authentic Canal Boat replica in the country, The St. Helena II of Canal Fulton, will be christened 10 a.m. July 11 at the boat landing in Canal Fulton.

The historic dedication program will take place during the Canal Fulton "Old Canal Days" festival to be held July 10-12.

Designed by Carroll Gantz of North Canton from a model of the original St. Helena now in the Stark County Historical Society in Canton, the Canal Boat will be available for public rides, Tuesday through Sunday through October.

The St. Helena II is a mule drawn, 65 foot long copy of a regular canal boat of the 19th century. It is designed to carry 60 passengers. A crew of three will direct the boat while underway and will give passengers a brief talk on the history of the Ohio-Erie Canal.

The trip will run from Canal Fulton to Lock 4 and return, a distance of approximately one mile each way. It will take an hour and 15 minutes to complete. The boat is provided with canvas overhead awnings that can be rolled down in the event of showers or unusually hot weather. All passengers will have seats available and all will be given the opportunity to see the crew and family cabins at each end of the boat.

The historical society, now owners of the boat and land at Lock 4, plans to place the gates of the lock in operating condition so that on some trips the boat will enter the Lock, the only operating one, remaining in the Ohio-Erie Canal.

Tickets are available at the Canal Landing. Rides are scheduled 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

OEA Plans School Study At Celina

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conditions in the Celina school system, hit by a four-day teachers strike earlier this year will be investigated by a three-man panel named by the Ohio Education Association.

The panel will hold hearings in Celina June 8-9 and then report to the OEA's Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission.

Named to conduct the study were Raymond O'Dell of Hamilton Local School District in Franklin County and Duane Snell, Mariemont, Hamilton County teacher, both members of the OEA executive committee, and Gerald Weis, OEA staff member.

The study was requested by the Celina Education Association to clarify problems facing the city's schools.

A five-member panel, also named Tuesday, will study problems that have caused strife within the Springfield Local District in Lucas County.

The panel, headed by Helen Kovach, Fairport Herbor teacher, will spend three days in the district June 8-10 interviewing citizens and school personnel.

Cincy Shooting Suspect Sought Off Interstate 75

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Four men were wounded late Tuesday night when a man opened fire with a rifle into the Klondyke Inn in the Northern outskirts of the city.

One of the men was reported in critical condition at general hospital here. The victims' identities had not been released.

Police found abandoned on Interstate 75 here what they believe is the getaway vehicle, a 1970 pickup truck.

A man between 30 and 35 years old was being sought and it was believed he was carrying a carbine.

Police had not been able to establish a motive for the shootings.

U.S. Officers Form Antiwar Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The antiwar movement has reached the U.S. military officers corps. Calling themselves the Concerned Officers Movement, about 25 Washington-based officers, mostly Navy men, have banded together to provide a forum for what they say is growing disillusionment among their ranks with the Indochina war.

A leader says the small group is probably the first antiwar organization at the officer level.

"Most of the junior officers are somewhat disillusioned about the war in Indochina," Lt. (j.g.) Phil Lehman, a Harvard graduate with eight months of Vietnam duty behind him, told a reporter.

Lehman, now in a supply billet here, said the group has broader concerns than the war—military justice and what he called "the quality of life in the military." The group reportedly has contacted other bases with favorable responses coming from California, Florida and Rhode Island.

The chief tool the organization uses to spread its views is a monthly newsletter.

The first issue of the newsletter, distributed in April, con-

Ohio Senators Urge Jet Sale To Israel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio's two U.S. senators, Democrat Stephen M. Young and Republican William B. Saxbe, are among 73 senators who signed a letter to Secretary of State William Rogers urging the Nixon administration to sell 125 war planes to Israel.

The letter cited the growing involvement of Soviet pilots with Egyptian air operations and said granting the Israel request is the surest way of heading off all-out war in the Middle East.

tended that U.S. policies had "turned an internal political struggle into a nation-destroying blood bath" in Vietnam.

Through its newsletter, the organization said its purpose is to "serve notice to the military and the nation that the officer corps is not part of a silent majority, that it is not going to let its thoughts be fashioned by the Pentagon."

Lehman said his commanding officer discussed the matter with him but there was no harassment.

Nobody has suggested he stop his activity—"not yet"—Lehman said.

The lieutenant said the newsletter is being put out in conformity with regulations, since neither government facilities, materials nor time are used.

Lehman indicated the organization makes strong efforts to avoid inflammatory rhetoric in getting its ideas across.

Lehman said most of the members of the organization entered the service, as he did, through ROTC or received commissions from officer candidate schools. None are "career motivated," he said.

They range in age from 23 to 30, several are doctors and a number of them have served in Vietnam.

Asked why he joined ROTC, Lehman said he was perfectly willing to serve.

"I felt I had to serve my military obligation and that being an officer in the Navy was the best way to do this," he said.

Lehman agreed that a number of enlisted men's antiwar activist groups have been in the field for some time. But, he said, "they don't welcome officer participation."

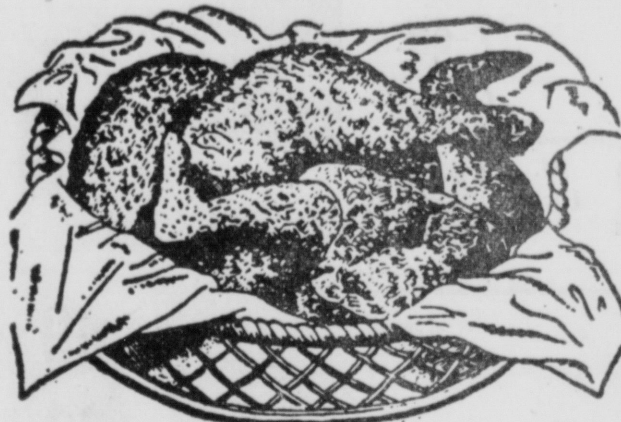

Anyway, he added, "they are more radical than we are."

College Chiefs Take Dim View Of Campus Riot Bill

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Heads of five colleges and universities in northern Ohio have expressed concern about a bill to cope with campus disorders being drafted by the state legislature.

Among other things, the proposed legislation would call for immediate dismissal of students involved in rioting.

Robert I. White, president of Kent State University, said he was opposed to the bill in a telegram Monday to House Minority Leader John C. McDonald and Rep. Barry J. Levey, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

"On balance it would not improve the situation and entails doubts about enforceability," White said. "This is a time for unemotional judicious consideration."

Akron University President Norman P. Auburn said he and his administrative staff were not certain the legislation under consideration "is the best possible legislation."

"At this time we urge caution and suggest possible re-drafting after a longer period of examination by legal authorities and appropriate university bodies," he said.

Robert W. Morse, president of Case Western Reserve University, said he had not read the bill in detail, but from what he had heard he suspected that "it is unenforceable and in many parts unconstitutional."

"It could easily be counter-productive in the sense that it would cause more trouble than it would solve," Morse added. Cleveland State University President Harold L. Enarson said he had understood that a joint legislative committee recently appointed to look into campus disturbances would present its report before any legislation was considered.

"If ever a situation existed where haste makes waste, this is it," Enarson said in a telegram to Levey.

He said he backed the legislature's efforts to find solutions for disruptions and violence on the campus but thought it should take time to study and draft the kind of policies "that will identify and punish the guilty without doing damage to the innocent."

Concern about the bill also was expressed by Dr. Charles E. Chapman, president of Cuyahoga Community College.

"I have not seen it yet, but the things that have been relayed to me cause me to have concern if the bill is as severe in the handling of student disturbances as I have been told."

Contractors Told To Hire Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has told federal construction contractors in the Washington area to hire 3,500 more minority-group workers by 1974.

The "Washington Plan" is the nation's second such enforced quota plan. The first was the "Philadelphia Plan" handed down last year. Chicago and Pittsburgh worked out voluntary plans.

The Washington Plan covers federal construction contracts of $500,000 or more and sets quota of minority workers ranging from 25 to 43 per cent among skilled trades.

House Panel Cuts Nixon Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee, slashing President Nixon's foreign aid recommendation by $575 million, has approved a $2.3 billion money bill for overseas assistance and related programs.

The bill now goes before the House for action and debate later this week.

The $2.3 billion approved Monday is one of the lowest allotments in the history of foreign assistance given to 123 nations since 1946.

The bill does not include funds for Southeast Asia countries. A forthcoming Defense Department measure includes $2.3 billion for them.

The committee called for maximum cooperation from recipient nations. It said some of them "are often the most flagrant violators of our foreign aid program objectives."

In cutting the proposed amount of aid, the committee pleaded a need to reduce spending to fight inflation.

It said the new appropriation would push total aid past $200 billion since 1946.

College Chiefs Take Dim View Of Campus Riot Bill

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Heads of five colleges and universities in northern Ohio have expressed concern about a bill to cope with campus disorders being drafted by the state legislature.

Among other things, the proposed legislation would call for immediate dismissal of students involved in rioting.

Robert I. White, president of Kent State University, said he was opposed to the bill in a telegram Monday to House Minority Leader John C. McDonald and Rep. Barry J. Levey, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

"On balance it would not improve the situation and entails doubts about enforceability," White said. "This is a time for unemotional judicious consideration."

Akron University President Norman P. Auburn said he and his administrative staff were not certain the legislation under consideration "is the best possible legislation."

"At this time we urge caution and suggest possible re-drafting after a longer period of examination by legal authorities and appropriate university bodies," he said.

Robert W. Morse, president of Case Western Reserve University, said he had not read the bill in detail, but from what he had heard he suspected that "it is unenforceable and in many parts unconstitutional."

"It could easily be counter-productive in the sense that it would cause more trouble than it would solve," Morse added.

Cleveland State University President Harold L. Enarson said he had understood that a joint legislative committee recently appointed to look into campus disturbances would present its report before any legislation was considered.

"If ever a situation existed

where haste makes waste, this is it," Enarson said in a telegram to Levey.

He said he backed the legislature's efforts to find solutions for disruptions and violence on the campus but thought it should take time to study and draft the kind of policies "that will identify and punish the guilty without doing damage to the innocent."

Concern about the bill also was expressed by Dr. Charles E. Chapman, president of Cuyahoga Community College.

"I have not seen it yet, but the things that have been relayed to me cause me to have concern if the bill is as severe in the handling of student disturbances as I have been told."

Contractors Told To Hire Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has told federal construction contractors in the Washington area to hire 3,500 more minority-group workers by 1974.

The "Washington Plan" is the nation's second such enforced quota plan. The first was the "Philadelphia Plan" handed down last year. Chicago and Pittsburgh worked out voluntary plans.

The Washington Plan covers federal construction contracts of $500,000 or more and sets quotas of minority workers ranging from 25 to 43 per cent among skilled trades.

Let's Tour Ohio

New Sea World Attraction Tops Geauga Area Variety

EDITOR'S NOTE — One of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by The Columbus Auto Club Travel Department.

New this year and likely to become one of Ohio's most popular attractions is Sea World, a 50-acre marine mammal park on Geauga Lake near Aurora and features of a tour with variety southeast of Cleveland.

Similar to the popular oceanarium of the same name at San Diego, Sea World shows feature a 4,000-pound killer whale and 2,500-pound elephant seal, plus dolphins, seals, penguins and piano-playing ducks.

Between-show attractions include dolphin and seal pools where animals can be petted and fed, a trout pool from which catch can be cleaned and iced and Japanese Ama girls diving for pearl-bearing oysters.

Nearby is Geauga Lake Park, an amusement which has undergone major renovation the past two years. Many new rides are among the 40 in the park, including a monorail and "kiddieland."

Located off Ohio 43, Sea World and Geauga Lake Park are open daily through Labor Day; weekends in September. Admission charge.

One of Ohio's many fine annual community celebrations is the Swiss Cheese Festival at Middlefield, June 20-21. Thousands enjoy the sumptuous fare, including barbecued chicken and, of course, Swiss cheese. Other activities include dairy product displays, continuous entertainment, parades and amusements.

At Burton is Pioneer Village, restoration of a typical Western Reserve community. All buildings are over 100 years old and include a museum, barn, schoolhouse, blacksmith shop, church and country store. Open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 to 6, Sunday 1 to 6. Admission charge; under 12 years free.

Not far away is Metals Park, home of the American Society for Metals, which has the largest geodesic dome in the U.S. (103 feet high, 274 feet wide). Beneath it is a mineral garden of 75 ore specimens. Free.

Two widely different state parks are in the area. Punderson is more traditional with a 32-room lodge and 26 vacation cabins and adjoining pool, plus boating, fishing and a fine 18 hole golf course.

But for something different, stop at Nelson-Kennedy Ledges. Its 167 acres is almost entirely rocks, caves and gorges which are crossed by small streams. For nature walks or hikers marked trails follow over, under and around the huge formations.

The AAA Club suggests this routing to the tour area: From Circleville, go north on U.S. 23 to junction with I-270; west on I-270 to junction with I-71; north on I-71 to junction with Ohio Route 82; east on Ohio Route 82 to the tour area.

Tax Surcharge Expiration To Give Boost To Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pay envelopes grow a little fatter next month when the income tax surcharge, imposed in Lyndon B. Johnson's last year as president to help pay for the Vietnam war, becomes history.

The tax, originally 10 percent, was cut in half last January and dies altogether July 1, the day the government's new fiscal year begins. Its passing will cost $4.5 billion in federal revenue.

But strapped as the Nixon administration is for cash, with budget deficits predicted for the old and the new fiscal years, the surtax's death may help provide something needed even more: consumer buying to help end the near-recession before the November congressional elections.

As a result primarily of the surtax's political unpopularity, the Nixon administration is sticking currently to its plan to let it fade away.

But Nixon has pledged to ask Congress for new taxes next January if conditions don't improve. He already has requested a new tax on gasoline containing lead.

He is content for now to let a small deficit—estimated by his planners at $1.8 billion for the year beginning in July—stand, mainly because his analysts say it is caused by a drop in corporate income taxes brought on by the business doldrums.

Ending the surtax won't mean much to the average taxpayer—an extra 70 cents a week for four-member families with $5,000 yearly incomes, $1.70 if income is $10,000—but taken together it will be a substantial economic stimulant matching the one that accompanied the January cut.

Dr. Harold C. Passer, the Commerce Department's chief economist, last week listed the expiration of the surtax as one of the major factors behind official administration forecasts of a business upturn. The others were smaller—$4 billion from higher Social Security payments and $3 billion from higher federal pay.

The cut will be especially welcome to taxpayers with incomes of $5,000, because their withholding taxes actually rose in January despite the surtax reduction.

Last year, $5.70 was deducted from weekly pay of $96.15. Since then it has been $6.10, an anomaly the Internal Revenue Service called a "quirk." It was caused, the IRS said, by bugs in the complex mathematical formulas needed to figure out the new low income allowance included in the Tax Reform Act Congress passed last December.

The Social Security laws already have provided a minor bonanza for some higher-income taxpayers, and more will be affected as the year wears on.

The taxes are collected at the rate of 4.8 percent until they reach a maximum of $374.40 for the year. People making about $17,800 reach the limit this week, and those making $15,000 pay through July.

Anyone who makes $7,800 or less pays all year.

Kentucky Enrolled In Food Stamp Plan

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — All of Kentucky's 120 counties now are enrolled in the federal food stamp program to help provide food for the poor.

Bourbon County, in Kentucky's bluegrass section, was the last to join, after twice rejecting the food stamp idea.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "First Tuesday," the two-hour magazine format program presented something for almost everybody in this month's edition.

The program started with a long—perhaps too long—piece about Philadelphia's aggressive police commissioner, Frank Rizzo, who rose from the ranks and has little patience with criminals and trouble-makers.

This was followed by a brief but impressive sequence in which a boy whose features and identity were concealed described to an audience of doctors the circumstances of his entrapment by drugs, particularly LSD. His recollections of sensations of "good trips" and "bummers" were fascinating and frightening.

Art lovers and adventure-novel fans must have been held by a portion showing some of the priceless art treasures of the Chinese emperors which were trundled around China for years. A quarter million pieces—ancient bronzes, jade, porcelain, paintings and metals, the best of the collection—are now stored in vaults on Formosa and some are on exhibit in Taiwan's National Palace Museum. Viewers saw some as the narrator told how they were packed in 20,000 crates and hauled around to avoid the Japanese and later the Communists.

There was a real cloak-and-dagger segment as host Sander Vanocur interviewed former Green Beret Capt. Robert Marasco about the spy with whose death Marasco and seven other Special Forces men were charged, although the charges were later dropped.

Marasco, now an insurance salesman, told of heading an espionage mission on the Cambodian border, investigating enemy facilities in the Parrot's Beak. He said that his sources found that Prince Shanouk, then in power, was in contact with the Viet Cong.

Asked if he killed the agent, Marasco replied, "That is classified for security purposes by the Army and I can't answer."

Two short, lighter pieces did not come off so well, particularly one designed to be a humorous treatment of the efforts of the women's liberation movement to invade stag bars.

Viewers, however, had a very rewarding two hours.

NBC plans a special one-hour program of "Meet the Press" Thursday night on the military activity in Cambodia. Newsmen will question a military spokesman for the Nixon administration during the first part of the program and, during the second half, another panel will question Sen. Frank Church and another senator about the constitutionality of the involvement.

Man Gets Life Term In Columbus Slaying

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Court Judge Archer Reilly sentenced Jonnie Fox, 42, to life in the Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday after a jury convicted him of second-degree murder.

Fox was accused of fatally shooting Joseph E. Thomas, 33, in an East Side bar.

Let's Tour Ohio

New Sea World Attraction
Tops Geauga Area Variety

EDITOR'S NOTE — One of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by The Columbus Auto Club Travel Department.

New this year and likely to become one of Ohio's most popular attractions is Sea World, a 50-acre marine mammal park on Geauga Lake near Aurora and feature of a tour with variety southeast of Cleveland.

Similar to the popular oceanarium of the same name at San Diego, Sea World shows feature a 4,000-pound killer whale and 2,500-pound elephant seal, plus dolphins, seals, penguins and piano-playing ducks.

Between-show attractions include dolphin and seal pools where animals can be petted and fed, a trout pool from which catch can be cleaned and iced and Japanese Ama girls diving for pearl-bearing oysters.

Nearby is Geauga Lake Park, an amusement which has undergone major renovation the past two years. Many new rides are among the 40 in the park, including a monorail and "kiddieland."

Located off Ohio 48, Sea World and Geauga Lake Park are open daily through Labor Day; weekends in September. Admission charge.

One of Ohio's many fine annual community celebrations is the Swiss Cheese Festival at Middlefield, June 20-21. Thousands enjoy the sumptuous fare, including barbecued chicken and, of course, swiss cheese. Other activities include dairy product displays, continuous entertainment, parades and amusements.

At Burton is Pioneer Village, restoration of a typical Western Reserve community. All buildings are over 100 years old and include a museum, barn, schoolhouse, blacksmith shop, church and country store. Open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 to 6, Sunday 1 to 6. Admission charge; under 12 years free.

Not far away is Metals Park, home of the American Society for Metals, which has the largest geodesic dome in the U.S. (103 feet high, 274 feet wide). Beneath it is a mineral garden of 75 ore specimens. Free.

Two widely different state parks are in the area. Punderson is more traditional with a 32-room lodge and 26 vacation cabins and adjoining pool, plus boating, fishing and a fine 18 hole golf course.

But for something different, stop at Nelson-Kennedy Ledges. Its 167 acres is almost entirely rocks, caves and gorges which are crossed by small streams. For nature walks or hikers marked trails follow over, under and around the huge formations.

The AAA Club suggests this routing to the tour area: From Circleville, go north on U.S. 23 to junction with I-270; west on I-270 to junction with I-71; north on I-71 to junction with Ohio Route 82; east on Ohio Route 82 to the tour area.

Heed Tornado Warnings
To Avoid Possible Tragedy

Pay attention to tornado warnings. Know what to do when you hear one. Be safe, not sorry — if indeed you're alive to be sorry.

That's the advice from the American Red Cross which cooperates with the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) Weather Bureau in a constant effort to save lives during tornado emergencies.

ESSA has launched for the second year a program designed to expand the networks of volunteer tornado spotters and to tell the public how best to prepare for these storms. The program is known as SKYWARN 70.

ESSA is able to identify areas where potential tornadoes might form and then issues a bulletin called a "watch." When these conditions threaten to spawn severe storms a "warning" is issued. Most tornadoes are first spotted and reported by citizens or volunteer spotters. Once the storm is spotted a fast and efficient means of warning the public is needed. SKYWARN attempts to increase the effectiveness of ESSA's 24-hour warning centers and advise officials on establishing centers in the areas where there is no provision for a tornado alerting system.

Ralph E. Davis of Red Cross Disaster Services stressed, "Schools, hospitals, factories and other places where people congregate should have special preparedness plans for use during tornado emergencies."

However, when a tornado approaches, a person's immediate action is the key to survival. Basically, a person should seek inside shelter preferably in a tornado cellar, an underground excavation or in a steel-frame or reinforced construction, Davis said. He also warned that people should stay away from windows during the emergency.

The following safety tips should also be observed, he said.

Cities or Towns: Office building — stand in an interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably the basement. Factories — on receiving a tornado warning, post a lookout. Workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection in accordance with advance plans. Homes — the basement usually offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under a sturdy workbench or heavy table, if possible. In a home with no basement, take cover under a heavy piece of furniture in the center part of the house. Keep some windows open, but stay away from them. Mobile homes are vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and residents should seek shelter in a substantial building. Trailer parks should have a community shelter.

Schools: Go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or structures with wide, free-span roofs. If the building is not of reinforced construction, go quickly to a nearby reinforced building or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat.

Open Country: Move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or driveway.

"During a tornado emergency," said Davis, "Everyone should keep tuned to radio or television for the latest weather advisory information."

Tax Surcharge Expiration To Give Boost To Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pay envelopes grow a little fatter next month when the income tax surcharge, imposed in Lyndon B. Johnson's last year as president to help pay for the Vietnam war, becomes history. The tax, originally 10 percent, was cut in half last January and dies altogether July 1, the day the government's new fiscal year begins. Its passing will cost $4.5 billion in federal revenue. But strapped as the Nixon administration is for cash, with budget deficits predicted for the old and the new fiscal years, the surtax's death may help provide something needed even more: consumer buying to help end the near-recession before the November congressional elections.

As a result primarily of the surtax's political unpopularity, the Nixon administration is sticking currently to its plan to let it fade away.

But Nixon has pledged to ask Congress for new taxes next January if conditions don't improve. He already has requested a new tax on gasoline containing lead.

He is content for now to let a small deficit—estimated by his planners at $1.8 billion for the year beginning in July—stand, mainly because his analysts say it is caused by a drop in corporate income taxes brought on by the business doldrums.

Ending the surtax won't mean much to the average taxpayer—an extra 70 cents a week for four-member families with $5,000 yearly incomes, $1.70 if income is $10,000—but taken together it will be a substantial economic stimulant matching the one that accompanied the January cut.

Dr. Harold C. Passer, the Commerce Department's chief economist, last week listed the expiration of the surtax as one of the major factors behind official administration forecasts of a business upturn. The others were smaller—$4 billion from higher Social Security payments and $3 billion from higher federal pay.

The cut will be especially welcome to taxpayers with incomes of $5,000, because their withholding taxes actually rose in January despite the surtax reduction.

Last year, $5.70 was deducted from weekly pay of $96.15. Since then it has been $6.10, an anomaly the Internal Revenue Service called a "quirk." It was caused, the IRS said, by bugs in the complex mathematical formulas needed to figure out the new low income allowance included in the Tax Reform Act Congress passed last December.

The Social Security laws already have provided a minor bonanza for some higher-income taxpayers, and more will be affected as the year wears on.

The taxes are collected at the rate of 4.8 per cent until they reach a maximum of $374.40 for the year. People making about $17,800 reach the limit this week, and those making $15,000 pay through July.

Anyone who makes $7,800 or less pays all year.

Kentucky Enrolled
In Food Stamp Plan

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — All of Kentucky's 120 counties now are enrolled in the federal food stamp program to help provide food for the poor.

Bourbon County, in Kentucky's bluegrass section, was the last to join, after twice rejecting the food stamp idea.

Views On TV-Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "First Tuesday," the two-hour magazine format program presented something for almost everybody in this month's edition.

The program started with a long—perhaps too long—piece about Philadelphia's aggressive police commissioner, Frank Rizzo, who rose from the ranks and has little patience with criminals and trouble-makers.

This was followed by a brief but impressive sequence in which a boy whose features and identity were concealed described to an audience of Goeters the circumstances of his entrapment by drugs, particularly LSD. His recollections of sensations of "good trips" and "bummers" were fascinating and frightening.

Art lovers and adventure-novel fans must have been held by a portion showing some of the priceless art treasures of the Chinese emperors which were trundled around China for years. A quarter million pieces—ancient bronzes, jade, porcelain, paintings and metals, the best of the collection—are now stored in vaults on Formosa and some are on exhibit in Taiwan's National Palace Museum. Viewers saw some as the narrator told how they were packed in 20,000 crates and hauled around to avoid the Japanese and the Communists.

There was a real cloak-and-dagger segment as host Sander Vanocur interviewed former Green Beret Capt. Robert Marasco about the spy with whose death Marasco and seven other Special Forces men were charged, although the charges were later dropped.

Marasco, now an insurance salesman, told of heading an espionage mission on the Cambodian border, investigating enemy facilities in the Parrot's Beak. He said that his sources found that Prince Shanouk, then in power, was in contact with the Viet Cong.

Asked if he killed the agent, Marasco replied, "That is classified for security purposes by the Army and I can't answer."

Two short, lighter pieces did not come off so well, particularly one designed to be a humorous treatment of the efforts of the women's liberation movement to invade stag bars.

Viewers, however, had a very rewarding two hours.

NBC plans a special one-hour program of "Meet the Press" Thursday night on the military activity in Cambodia. Newsman will question a military spokesman for the Nixon administration during the first part of the program and, during the second half, another panel will question Sen. Frank Church and another senator about the constitutionality of the involvement.

Francis Dale To Testify In Curt Flood Baseball Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense in the Curt Flood case was expected today to put on the stand Cincinnati owner Francis Dale, one of a steady stream of baseball officials testifying that the sport cannot exist without the controversial reserve system.

Mark Hughes, chief counsel for baseball's defendants, estimated it would be the end of the week or the first part of next week before the defense had exhausted its list of witnesses.

Also scheduled to testify today was John Gaherin, chief labor negotiator for the owners.

In testimony Tuesday during the case in which Flood is challenging baseball's reserve system, the defendants called Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. Devine traded Flood to Philadelphia in the transaction that provoked the suit. Also called were NBC broadcaster Joe Garagiola and Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Devine said it was his opinion that "trading contracts of players plays a comparable role to player development" in building a team. He revealed that the Cardinals had spent $1.75 million for player development and acquisition last year.

Devine also revealed, under cross-examination, that he had exercised the option renewal clause in the player's contract when slugger Richie Allen and pitcher Steve Carlton became holdouts with the Cards earlier in the spring.

Under the clause a player is automatically re-signed. One of the keys to Flood's suit is the contention that when a player is traded without his permission his rights are violated.

Flood also is contending that the option renewal clause enables the sport to operate in restraint of trade within the framework of the reserve system.

Garagiola, a former catcher with four National League clubs, testified the reserve system was reasonable and necessary and said, "To me it's the best system. Nobody has come up with anything different. If they change the name, every body probably would be happy."

Cronin also testified that the sport needs the reserve system, said he didn't think players were in a weaker bargaining position than the clubs in salary negotiations and said, as far as he knew, players were "as satisfied as satisfied could be" with their salaries.

Hill, Casper Both May Be Out Of Kemper

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Billy Casper is out — and may be for some time — and Dave Hill is a questionable starter in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Hill, the 1969 Vardon Trophy winner and the winner of last week's Danny Thomas-Memphis Open, has committed to play in the $150,000 event that begins Thursday on the 7,231 yard, par 72 Quail Hollow Country Club course.

"But he committed with the understanding that he could be excused if he was unable to get out of some commitments in Michigan," tournament director Ed Carter said today. "We haven't heard anything further from him."

And Casper, the current Masters champion and one of the game's three one million dollar winners, withdrew because of a hand injury sustained on a recent trip to Japan.

"It's doubtful at this point whether I can play next week in the Western Open and the week after that in the U.S. Open," Casper told tournament officials by telephone from his home in Bonita, Calif. "It's that serious right now."

With Casper out, and Gary Player back home in South Africa, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus—as usual—ranked as the men to beat for the $30,000 top prize in the Kemper. Both are back in action after a week's rest.

Nicklaus, competing in the Kemper for the first time, played a practice round Tuesday and Palmer was scheduled to arrive today.

Auto Racers In Mourning For McLaren

GOODWOOD, England (AP) — The auto racing world today mourned the death of Bruce McLaren, one of its top drivers. He died Tuesday at 32 in the crash of an experimental car of his own design.

McLaren, a New Zealander, spun out of control in the auto while driving at 180 miles per hour on the Goodwood Circuit and crashed into an earthen bank.

His MD8 sports car broke in two and exploded into flames. McLaren was dragged clear but died in minutes.

McLaren decided against personally competing at Indianapolis last month in order to ready the MD8 for his defense of the prestigious Canadian-American Series races.

His death came on the same track which ended the career of Stirling Moss in 1961. Moss survived a high-speed collision at Goodwood but hasn't raced since.

Following news of his death, the Royal Automobile Club announced that McLaren was the winner of the coveted Seagrave Trophy for his outstanding performance in winning every race in the 1969 Can-Am Challenge Cup series with cars of his own design and construction.

McLaren had registered many triumphs in auto racing but his biggest victory was considered his winning of the LeMans 24 hours race in a Ford GT40 in 1968.

In winning 20 games for the 1969 Yankees, pitcher Mel Stottlemyre hurled 303 innings. Mel completed 24 of his 39 starts.

Senators, Tribe Look To Winning Ways

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
Big Frank Howard, the Washington slugger who happens to lead the American League in home runs, claims that making contact is his biggest problem.

The same might be true of the entire American League when Sudden Sam McDowell is on the mound.

Tuesday night neither of these veteran All-Star performers had any difficulty.

Howard drilled his 16th homer of the season, a two-run shot that earned the Senators a 2-2 tie, and his bloop single triggered a two-run eighth-inning rally that brought Washington a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

McDowell, the AL's strikeout king, had a no-hitter for seven innings but had to settle for a two-hitter in the opener of a doubleheader as the Cleveland Indians swept Milwaukee 4-1, 8-5.

In other AL contests, Boston whipped Minnesota 5-1, New York edged Kansas City 3-2, Baltimore stopped Oakland 5-1 and California nipped Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

Howard, who cracked 48 homers last year, says he doesn't think about the long ball. "My biggest problem is making contact," said the huge 6-foot-7, 270-pound Howard. "I figure if I make contact, the long ball will take care of itself."

McDowell, who struck out eight Tuesday night, leads the league with 119 and upped his record to 8-3. His attempt at a no-hitter—McDowell owns seven one-hitters—was snapped when Danny Walton stroked a leadoff double in the eighth.

It was the stylish left-hander's seventh complete game—no other pitcher on the Indians' staff has one—and his second consecutive two-hitter. His earned run average dropped to 2.35.

"I'm not interested in a no-hitter," McDowell said afterward. "I'm more interested in winning. 'It was a stupid pitch,' he said of Walton's hit. 'I threw him a mediocre, semi-pro fast ball down the middle.' 'Some guy in the stands kept telling me every inning I was working on a no-hitter. It didn't bother me. It became a joke and helped relax me.'"

Jack Heideman's two-run single and a solo homer by Graig Nettles helped ease the way for McDowell in the opener and the Indians crashed five roundtrippers in the nightcap.

Nettles belted a pair and added a single for four runs batted in while Duke Sims also rapped out two and Ray Fosse drilled another. Walton had a solo homer for the Brewers.

Mike Andrews stroked four hits, driving in one run and igniting two rallies for the Red Sox while Billy Conigharo rapped a solo homer to back the eight-hit hurling of right-hander Ray Culp over the Twins.

Curt Blefary drove in a pair of runs with a sacrifice fly and his first homer of the season as the Yankees held off a ninth-inning Royals' surge.

Fritz Peterson picked up his eighth victory against two losses, but needed last-out help from Lindy McDaniel after Kansas City scored two runs in the final inning.

Jim Palmer notched his seventh victory, scattering five hits and Merv Rettenmund drove in two runs with a double. The A's contributed three errors to the Baltimore victory.

Jim Fregosi rapped a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning, enabling the Angels to get within 1½ games of West leader Minnesota. Fregosi's drive scored Jay Johnstone, who opened the inning with a triple. Willie Horton drove in both Detroit runs.

1968 OSU Squad Voted Top Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's 1968 national champions have been voted the outstanding college football team of the 1960s, according to a poll conducted by the American Broadcasting Co.

Writers and broadcasters from all sections of the country gave Ohio State 870 points to 658 for the 1969 Texas team, Boone Arledge, president of ABC Sports, announced.

Ohio State compiled a 10-1 record in 1968, including a victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Texas was 11-0 last season and beat Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

A committee chosen by ABC Sports to screen all the great teams of the 1960s narrowed its choices down to Ohio State, 1968; Texas, 1969; Alabama, 1961; Southern California, 1962; and Texas, 1963.

Alabama polled 619 points, Southern Cal 576 and the 1963 Texas team 432.

Similar polls have been taken for the best coach, best game, and best players of the 1960s. The winners will be announced at a later date.

Johnny Bench Leads Reds In 7-2 Slugfest Over Phils

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's John Bench faces a pleasant task—because of a recent home run spree—revising his homer goal for 1970.

"I thought I could hit some, but I'm surprised I'm hitting so many," Bench said Tuesday night. "I think I'm going to have to amend my goal. It was 30."

Bench cracked his 15th and 16th homers as he drove in four runs and paced Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. It was the Reds fifth consecutive triumph and kept them well out front in the Western Division of the National League.

Bench wound up the night with three hits in four at bats in the game called in the top of the eighth inning because of rain.

He singled in the fourth inning as the Reds mounted a 2-0 margin but until that point he had gone zero for 11 and his average had sagged to .271.

"I am glad to see Bench start hitting again, but I was never worried," Manager Sparky Anderson said.

Bench agreed that he has not been worried by any means and pointed out that many of his hits, especially the homers, have come in clutch situations.

"I just hope I can keep up the pace," continued Bench, who finished 1969 with 26 homers and 90 runs batted in.

He now has 39 RBIs. Although Bench now has 16 homers, he trails Tony Perez by three.

Perez lashed his 19th round tripper to give the Reds a 1-0 margin in the fourth.

Perez said that "I have been striking out quite a bit, but I always do and I am still swinging quite well."

Toledo senior Ken Crots made 77 straight extra point kicks, a major college record, before missing one this fall in a 34-9 victory over Ohio University.

Rookie Lou Piniella, 26, led the Kansas City Royals with 68 runs batted in last season in the team's first year in the American League.

Jets Defeat Chiefs, 9-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets got more home runs than they needed in International League baseball play Tuesday night.

Angel Mangual belted a grand slam homer in the third inning to power the Jets to a 9-4 victory over the Syracuse Chiefs. It was his eighth of the season.

Columbus also got homers from Ron Davis, his first and second this year.

Bill Robinson and Len Boehmer hit solo blasts for the Chiefs.

Toledo, meanwhile, counted on Paul Pavelko's double in the fifth inning, which drove in two runs, for a 5-2 victory over Richmond.

In other IL games, Louisville

Homers Fill National League Tilts

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Richie Allen, Hank Aaron, Tony Perez and Johnny Bench have set many a pitcher to biting his fingernails, but when Phil Niekro does it the hitters are in the palm of his hand.

The aforementioned sluggers all played long ball Tuesday night, while pitcher Niekro used a one-hour rain delay to give himself an oral manicure and get his knuckleball under control.

Allen crashed two home runs, one a grand slam, and drove in seven runs as St. Louis thrashed San Francisco 12-1. Aaron backed Niekro's four-hit pitching with his first homer in two weeks as Atlanta downed the New York Mets 4-1. Bench drilled two homers and Perez one as Cincinnati thumped Philadelphia 7-2. The San Diego Padres blasted six Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits in a 14-8 slugfest and Houston ripped Montreal 6-4.

The other scheduled National League game, Los Angeles at Chicago, was rained out.

Manager Red Schoendienst returned Allen from the cleanup spot to No. 3 in the St. Louis batting order and the slugging first baseman, who hadn't homered in seven games, exploded.

He singled home a run in the first inning, belted a two-run homer in the fifth and capped the rout with his grand slam in the eighth. Backed by a 15-hit attack, Steve Carlton held the Giants to four hits—including Willie McCovey's 16th homer—and posted his first triumph since May 11.

The grand slam was the fifth of Allen's career and home run No. 18 for the season.

"The big reason for the change in the batting order," explained Schoendienst, "is getting Allen back up there to No. 3, where he can hurt people even more. I don't care if the score is 10-0 or 1-0, he's in a position now where he's going to be coming up when the game will either be won or lost."

The Mets and Braves, meeting for the first time since last year's NL playoffs, were locked in a 1-1 tie when the rains came in the third inning.

"I didn't like the weather," said Niekro. "The first couple of innings I struggled. The heavy air kept pushing the ball down. During the delay, I bit my fingernails down so I could get a better grip on the ball and I did a lot better."

When play resumed, the Braves went ahead in the fourth on Bob Didier's run-scoring single. Aaron, who hadn't homered since May 17, iced it in the seventh with a two-run shot, his 17th.

"A home run always feels good," said Aaron, "whether you hit 10 in a week, once a week, once a month or once a year."

Tommy Agee homered for the Mets' run.

Bench slammed two homers, one a three-run wallop, and Perez, the majors' leading slugger, socked No. 19 as the Reds scored a rain-shortened triumph over the Phillies, their fifth straight win.

Rookie Wayne Simpson, 6-1, yielded six hits and fanned seven before rain halted play with the Phils batting in the top of the eighth.

San Diego got a two-run homer from Clarence Gaston, triples by Chris Cannizzaro, Tommy Dean and Jose Arcia (two) and doubles by Ollie Brown, Steve Huntz and Nate Colbert in routing the Pirates. Willie Star-gell homered for Pittsburgh.

The Padres kayoed Bob Veale with a six-run first inning and never let up.

"I'd say our pitching wasn't too sound," ventured Pirate skipper Danny Murtaugh. "A couple of batboys even sneaked up there and got a couple of hits."

Francis Dale To Testify In Curt Flood Baseball Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense in the Curt Flood case was expected today to put on the stand Cincinnati owner Francis Dale, one of a steady stream of baseball officials testifying that the sport cannot exist without the controversial reserve system.

Mark Hughes, chief counsel for baseball's defendants, estimated it would be the end of the week or the first part of next week before the defense had exhausted its list of witnesses.

Also scheduled to testify today was John Gaherin, chief labor negotiator for the owners.

In testimony Tuesday during the case in which Flood is challenging baseball's reserve system, the defendants called Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. Devine traded Flood to Philadelphia in the transaction that provoked the suit. Also called were NBC broadcaster Joe Garagiola and Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Devine said it was his opinion that "trading contracts of players plays a comparable role to player development" in building a team. He revealed that the Cardinals had spent $1.75 million for player development and acquisition last year.

Devine also revealed, under cross-examination, that he had exercised the option renewal clause in the player's contract when slugger Richie Allen and pitcher Steve Carlton became holdouts with the Cards earlier in the spring.

Under the clause a player is automatically re-signed. One of the keys to Flood's suit is the contention that when a player is traded without his permission his rights are violated.

Flood also is contending that the option renewal clause enables the sport to operate in restraint of trade within the framework of the reserve system.

Garagiola, a former catcher with four National League clubs, testified the reserve system was reasonable and necessary and said, "To me it's the best system. Nobody has come up with anything different. If they change the name, everybody probably would be happy."

Cronin also testified that the sport needs the reserve system, said he didn't think players were in a weaker bargaining position than the clubs in salary negotiations and said, as far as he knew, players were "as satisfied as satisfied could be" with their salaries.

Homers Fill National League Tilts

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Allen, Hank Aaron, Tony Perez and Johnny Bench have set many a pitcher to biting his fingernails, but when Phil Niekro does it the hitters are in the palm of his hand.

The aforementioned sluggers all played long ball Tuesday night, while pitcher Niekro used a one-hour rain delay to give himself an oral manicure and get his knuckleball under control.

Allen crashed two home runs, one a grand slam, and drove in seven runs as St. Louis thrashed San Francisco 12-1; Aaron backed Niekro's four-hit pitching with his first homer in two weeks as Atlanta downed the New York Mets 4-1; Bench drilled two homers and Perez one as Cincinnati thumped Philadelphia 7-2; the San Diego Padres blasted six Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits in a 14-8 slugfest and Houston ripped Montreal 6-4.

The other scheduled National League game, Los Angeles at Chicago, was rained out.

Manager Red Schoendienst returned Allen from the cleanup spot to No. 3 in the St. Louis batting order and the slugging first baseman, who hadn't homered in seven games, exploded.

He singled home a run in the first inning, belted a two-run homer in the fifth and capped the rout with his grand slam in the eighth. Backed by a 15-hit attack, Steve Carlton held the Giants to four hits—including Willie McCovey's 16th homer—and posted his first triumph since May 11.

The grand slam was the fifth of Allen's career and home run No. 18 for the season.

"The big reason for the change in the batting order," explained Schoendienst, "is getting Allen back up there to No. 3, where he can hurt people even more. I don't care if the score is 10-9 or 1-0, he's in a position now where he's going to be coming up when the game will either be won or lost."

The Mets and Braves, meeting for the first time since last year's NL playoffs, were locked in a 1-1 tie when the rains came in the third inning.

"I didn't like the weather," said Niekro. "The first couple of innings I struggled. The heavy air kept pushing the ball down. During the delay, I bit my fingernails down so I could get a better grip on the ball and I did a lot better."

When play resumed, the Braves went ahead in the fourth on Bob Didier's run-scoring single. Aaron, who hadn't homered since May 17, iced it in the seventh with a two-run shot, his 17th.

"A home run always feels good," said Aaron, "whether you hit it in a week, once a week, once a month or once a year."

Tommie Agee homered for the Mets' run.

English Captain Bobby Moore, detained a week ago in Bogota on theft charges, won praises for his defensive play from Mario Zagalo, coach of the Brazilian team which is expected to be England's chief challenger for the coveted Jules Rimet Trophy, emblematic of world supremacy in the sport.

"He was the star of the game," said Zagalo.

Bench slammed two homers, one a three-run wallop, and Perez, the majors' leading slugger, socked No. 19 as the Reds scored a rain-shortened triumph over the Phillies, their fifth straight win.

Rookie Wayne Simpson, 6-1, yielded six hits and fanned seven before rain halted play with the Phils batting in the top of the eighth.

San Diego got a two-run homer from Clarence Gaston, triples by Chris Cannizzaro, Tommy Dean and Jose Arcia (two) and doubles by Ollie Brown, Steve Huntz and Nate Colbert in routing the Pirates. Willie Star-gel homered for Pittsburgh.

Hill, Casper Both May Be Out Of Kemper

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Billy Casper is out — and may be for some time — and Dave Hill is a questionable starter in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Hill, the 1969 Vardon Trophy winner and the winner of last week's Danny Thomas-Memphis Open, has committed to play in the $150,000 event that begins Thursday on the 7,231 yard, par 72 Quail Hollow Country Club course.

"But he committed with the understanding that he could be excused if he was unable to get out of some commitments in Michigan," tournament director Ed Carter said today. "We haven't heard anything further from him."

And Casper, the current Masters champion and one of the game's three million dollar winners, withdrew because of a hand injury sustained on a recent trip to Japan.

"It's doubtful at this point whether I can play next week in the Western Open and the week after that in the U.S. Open," Casper told tournament officials by telephone from his home in Bonita, Calif. "It's that serious right now."

With Casper out, and Gary Player back home in South Africa, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus—as usual — ranked as the men to beat for the $30,000 top prize in the Kemper. Both are back in action after a week's rest.

Nicklaus, competing in the Kemper for the first time, played a practice round Tuesday and Palmer was scheduled to arrive today.

Auto Racers In Mourning For McLaren

GOODWOOD, England (AP) — The auto racing world today mourned the death of Bruce McLaren, one of its top drivers. He died Tuesday at 32 in the crash of an experimental car of his own design.

McLaren, a New Zealander, spun out of control in the auto while driving at 180 miles per hour on the Goodwood Circuit and crashed into an earthen bank.

His M8S sports car broke in two and exploded into flames. McLaren was dragged clear but died in minutes.

McLaren decided against personally competing at Indianapolis last month in order to ready the M8S for his defense of the prestigious Canadian-American Series races.

His death came on the same track which ended the career of Stirling Moss in 1961. Moss survived a high-speed collision at Goodwood but hasn't raced since.

Following news of his death, the Royal Automobile Club announced that McLaren was the winner of the coveted Seagrave Trophy for his outstanding performance in winning every race in the 1969 Can-Am Challenge Cup series with cars of his own design and construction.

McLaren had registered many triumphs in auto racing but his biggest victory was considered his winning of the LeMans 24 hours race in a Ford GT40 in 1968.

In winning 20 games for the 1969 Yankees, pitcher Mel Stottlemyre hurled 303 innings. Mel completed 24 of his 39 starts.

Senators, Tribe Look To Winning Ways

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Frank Howard, the Washington slugger who happens to lead the American League in home runs, claims that making contact is his biggest problem.

The same might be true of the entire American League when Sudden Sam McDowell is on the mound.

Tuesday night neither of these veteran All-Star performers had any difficulty.

Howard drilled his 16th homer of the season, a two-run shot that earned the Senators a 2-2 tie, and his bloop single triggered a two-run eighth-inning rally that brought Washington a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

McDowell, the AL's strikeout king, had a no-hitter for seven innings but had to settle for a two-hitter in the opener of a doubleheader as the Cleveland Indians swept Milwaukee 4-1, 8-5.

In other AL contests, Boston whipped Minnesota 5-1, New York edged Kansas City 3-2, Baltimore stopped Oakland 5-1 and California nipped Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

Howard, who cracked 48 homers last year, says he doesn't think about the long ball.

"My biggest problem is making contact," said the huge 6-foot-7, 270-pound Howard. "I figure if I make contact, the long ball will take care of itself."

McDowell, who struck out eight Tuesday night, leads the league with 119 and upped his record to 8-3. His attempt at a no-hitter—McDowell owns seven no-hitters—was snapped when Danny Walton stroked a leadoff double in the eighth.

It was the stylish left-hander's seventh complete game—no other pitcher on the Indians' staff has one—and his second consecutive two-hitter. His earned run average dropped to 2.35.

"I'm not interested in a no-hitter," McDowell said afterward. "I'm more interested in winning. It was a stupid pitch," he said of Walton's hit. "I threw him a mediocre, semi-pro fast ball down the middle."

"Some guy in the stands kept telling me every inning I was working on a no-hitter. It didn't bother me. It became a joke and helped relax me."

Jack Heideman's two-run single and a solo homer by Graig Nettles helped ease the way for McDowell in the opener and the Indians crashed five roundtrippers in the nightcap.

Nettles belted a pair and added a single for four runs batted in while Duke Sims also rapped out two and Ray Fosse drilled another. Walton had a solo homer for the Brewers.

Mike Andrews stroked four hits, driving in one run and igniting two rallies for the Red Sox while Billy Conigliaro rapped a solo homer to back the eight-hit hurling of right-hander Ray Culp over the Twins.

Curt Blefary drove in a pair of runs with a sacrifice fly and his first homer of the season as the Yankees held off a ninth-inning Royals' surge.

Fritz Peterson picked up his eighth victory against two losses, but needed last-out help from Lindy McDaniel after Kansas City scored two runs in the final inning.

Jim Palmer notched his seventh victory, scattering five hits and Merv Rettenmund drove in two runs with a double. The A's contributed three errors to the Baltimore victory.

Jim Fregosi rapped a sacrifice fly in the 10th inning, enabling the Angels to get within 1½ games of West leader Minnesota. Fregosi's drive scored Jay Johnstone, who opened the inning with a triple, Willie Horton drove in both Detroit runs.

1968 OSU Squad Voted Top Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's 1968 national champions have been voted the outstanding college football team of the 1960s, according to a poll conducted by the American Broadcasting Co.

Writers and broadcasters from all sections of the country gave Ohio State 870 points to 658 for the 1969 Texas team, Rooney Arledge, president of ABC Sports, announced.

Ohio State compiled a 10-0 record in 1968, including a victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Texas was 11-0 last season and beat Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

A committee chosen by ABC Sports to screen all the great teams of the 1960s narrowed its choices down to Ohio State, 1968; Texas, 1969; Alabama, 1961; Southern California, 1962; and Texas, 1963.

Alabama polled 619 points, Southern Cal 576 and the 1963 Texas team 432.

Similar polls have been taken for the best coach, best game, and best players of the 1960s. The winners will be announced at a later date.

Johnny Bench Leads Reds In 7-2 Slugfest Over Phils

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's John Bench faces a pleasant task—because of a recent home run spree—revising his homer goal for 1970.

"I thought I could hit some but I'm surprised I'm hitting so many," Bench said Tuesday night. "I think I'm going to have to amend my goal. It was 30."

Bench cracked his 15th and 16th homers as he drove in four runs and paced Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. It was the Reds' fifth consecutive triumph and kept them well out front in the Western Division of the National League.

Bench wound up the night with three hits in four at bats in the game called in the top of the eighth inning because of rain.

He singled in the fourth inning as the Reds mounted a 2-0 margin but until that point he had gone zero for 11 and his average had sagged to .271.

"I am glad to see Bench start hitting again, but I was never worried," Manager Sparky Anderson said.

Bench agreed that he has not been worried by any means and pointed out that many of his hits, especially the homers, have come in clutch situations.

"I just hope I can keep up the pace," continued Bench, who finished 1969 with 26 homers and 90 runs batted in.

He now has 39 RBIs.

Although Bench now has 16 homers, he trails Tony Perez by three.

Perez lashed his 19th round tripper to give the Reds a 1-0 margin in the fourth.

Perez said that "I have been striking out quite a bit, but I always do and I am still swinging quite well."

The Reds added a run in the fourth on a double play and then Bench propelled his 15th homer in the sixth with no one on. He hit the 16th in the seventh with two men aboard.

While he and Perez were providing much of the offense, rookie Wayne Simpson was scattering six hits. He struck out six and walked two en route to his seventh triumph against only one loss although he felt he was a "little bit off and had a tendency to be up high."

The Phillies apparently did not feel that Simpson was too far off because they only managed to plate single runs in the fifth and sixth inning.

Tony Taylor and Larry Hise knocked in runs with singles.

Jets Defeat Chiefs, 9-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets got more home runs than they needed in International League baseball play Tuesday night.

Angel Mangual belted a grand slam homer in the third inning to power the Jets to a 9-4 victory over the Syracuse Chiefs. It was his eighth of the season.

Columbus also got homers from Ron Davis, his first and second this year.

Bill Robinson and Len Boehmer hit solo blasts for the Chiefs.

Toledo senior Ken Crots made 77 straight extra point kicks, a major college record, before missing one this fall in a 34-9 victory over Ohio University.

Rookie Lou Piniella, 26, led the Kansas City Royals with 68 runs batted in last season in the team's first year in the American League.

OSU Student Strike Is Ended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The end came Tuesday for a student strike which triggered chaos but accomplished little else at Ohio State University.

Meanwhile, legislation calling for immediate suspension of college students and faculty members who engage in disorders was passed by the Ohio House, and court arguments began on a requested injunction against violence at Ohio State.

Only 400 students attended a rally on the OSU oval Tuesday, during which strike leaders announced the campus "free university" was disbanding.

The leaders also urged students to lobby in the legislature against the campus riot control legislation.

Young people packed the galleries when the House passed

In Franklin County Common Pleas Court Tuesday, Judge Tom Moody continued a hearing on the injunction petition, but reserved the right to act if disorders erupt again.

He delayed a decision on the temporary injunction to allow attorneys additional time to file affidavits and briefs, but warned "this court will make an immediate ruling if anything changes for the worse" on the campus.

The injunction is being sought by nine students and one parent who also are suing for $1 million damages for campus disturbances the past six weeks which disrupted classes, brought out National Guardsmen three times and forced a 12-day shutdown of the big school.

Nine students and one professor named in the lawsuit appeared in the courtroom Tuesday as their attorneys argued against the injunction.

The court order would prevent them from "making statements, issuing leaflets or participating in activities designed to cause violence, disorder, personal injury, property damage or disruption of educational activities."

The attorney for the plaintiffs, David J. Young, said the injunction was needed to prevent the defendants "from further inflaming the situation... until the tinderbox on campus has cooled off."

Attorney Charles Taylor, defending David Kettler, a political science professor named in the suit, argued that the plaintiffs should take their complaint to university trustees if they feel their rights have been abused.

Jerry Messmer, lawyer defending the nine students, contended the injunction would infringe on the First Amendment rights of free speech as well as the right of peaceful assembly.

He also said the plaintiffs had failed to show that speeches by his clients led to rioting.

The Strike Coalition, made up of three militant student groups at Ohio State, began a class boycott and picketing late in April after university administrators refused to negotiate a list of 28 demands.

Demonstrations escalated into rioting which forced the school to close May 16-18.

During student-administration negotiations that began after the school reopened, the university agreed to establish a minority affairs office to recruit more black students and faculty and to eliminate the disciplinary committee and replace it with a hearing officer.

Other demands by the students included abolition of ROTC on campus, an end to war research, greater student decision-making power and more rights for women.

Scientists Create Life Gene With Organic Chemicals

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Scientists have created a gene in the laboratory, a feat that raises questions about the possibility of starting life itself in a test tube.

The announcement of the first man-made gene—the basic unit of heredity that controls all life processes—was made Tuesday by a team headed by a Nobel Prize winner, Dr. H. Gobind Khorana.

The University of Wisconsin team said genes can be made completely from simple organic chemicals.

Khorana, who won a 1968 Nobel for earlier work on the genetic code, said the new work might eventually allow scientists to manipulate the biology of a living system.

Some scientists have said in the past that it might be 25 to 100 years before this new knowledge of genetics can be put to work in man.

The first likely application would be in genetic engineering—perhaps infecting humans with viruses that carry new genes, genes that would cure hereditary diseases such as hemophilia.

By making and giving substitute genes, man may be able to make people smarter or taller. Scientists may be able to turn off the growth of cancer cells.

A first simple life form that might be made in the test tube is a virus.

might be so unusual that nothing would exist to control it.

So while scientists are moving closer to control of biological processes, they also are moving closer to dangers and the problems of the possible misuse of this mastery.

Who would be given the power to make decisions about heredity control? This question is one of profound concern to many scientists working with genetics.

When a Harvard Medical School team isolated pure genetic material late last year, Dr. Jonathan Beckwith, 33, the team leader, expressed fear that the work could be misused by government.

The Wisconsin synthesis of a gene is a major advance in a biological revolution that began in the 1940s with the discovery that growth and heredity are controlled by the chemical substance DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid.

Genes are molecules of DNA. They thus harbor the master genetic information that is responsible for making people, and all living things, what they are.

LONDON (AP)—The bookies were ready to take a fleeing today if American-owned Nijinsky won as expected in the prestigious Epsom Derby.

Nijinsky, owned by Charles W. Englehard, a New York platinum tycoon, was a 5-4 favorite for the 109-year-old race on Epsom Downs course.

A spokesman for Ladbrokes, one of Britain's leading bookies, said his firm would lose $240,000 if Nijinsky won. Hills, another bookmaking firm said a Nijinsky victory would cost it $150,000.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Shirley Englehorn has boosted her golf earnings to $7,514, vaulting from 11th to seventh on the Ladies Professional Golf Association earnings list for 1970.

Miss Englehorn's $2,250 victory in last week's O'Sullivan Open at Winchester, Va., pushed her up the list, an association Carol Mann with $12,655, followed by Sandra Haynie with $11,016, Kathy Whitworth $10,027, Marilyn Smith $8,739, Betsy Rawls $8,700, JoAnn Prentice $7,934, Miss Englehorn $7,514, Mary Mills $7,372 and Donna Caponi $6,063.

More Rain In Forecast For Midwest

Showers and thunderstorms splattered more rain into the Central Plains, the Midwest and the Deep South today.

One-inch soakings were common from Kansas to Georgia and in an area ranging northward into Michigan and south to the central Gulf Coast.

Heavier downpours hit some communities. More than 2 inches fell at Mobile, Ala., late Tuesday. Nearly 1½ inches washed Findlay, Ohio, during the night.

Cool weather clung to a large part of the Midcontinent just north of the rain belt.

Summer-like heat persisted in the Pacific Northwest and showed signs of breaking through the Northern Rockies and into the Great Plains. Temperatures climbed into the 90s once more Tuesday in western Oregon and Washington. Portland had 96 and Seattle 94.

Unseasonable mildness also fanned through the Northeast. Burlington, Vt., warmed up to 89 Tuesday to break a June 2 record dating to 1895 there.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 36 at Pellston, Mich., to 89 at Blythe, Calif.

Sen. Smith Raps U.S. Extremists

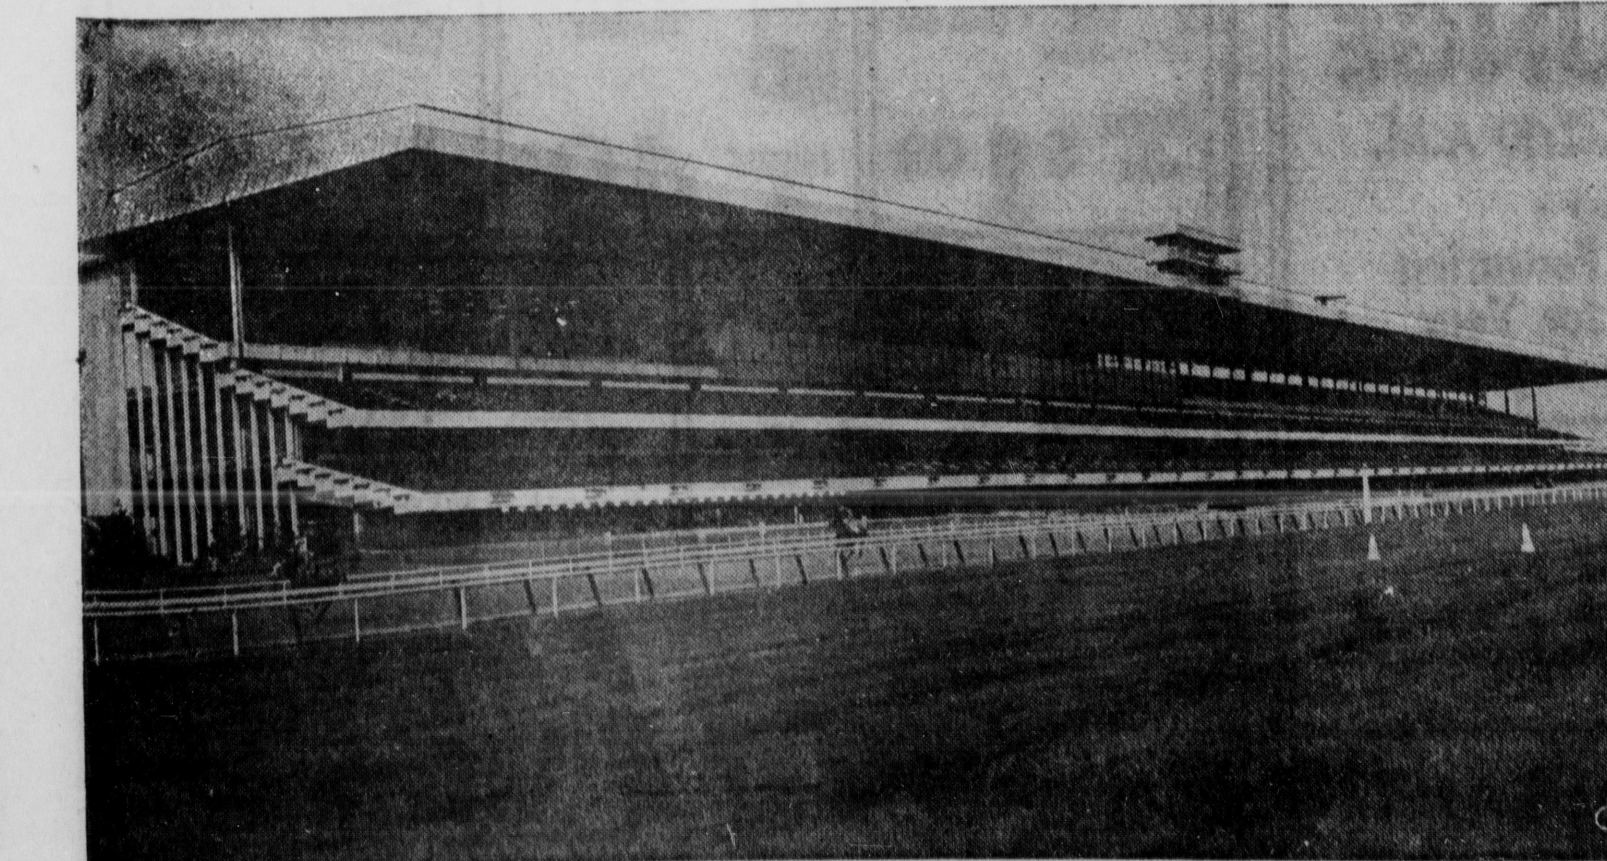

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, feels a new era of right-wing repression could occur in the United States in reaction to the "antidemocratic arrogance and anihilism from the political extreme left."

She made the observation Monday—20 years to the day after her celebrated "declaration of conscience" against the tactics of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis.

Mrs. Smith, 72, called on all who reject "the violence and unreasonableness of both the extreme right and the extreme left" to search and declare their own consciences.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's unemployment rate for the week ending May 23 was 2.4 per cent, lowest of any industrial state, Bureau of Employment Service reports Tuesday. That was a .5 per cent decline from three weeks earlier.

OSU Student Strike Is Ended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The end came Tuesday for a student strike which triggered chaos but accomplished little else at Ohio State University. Meanwhile, legislation calling for immediate suspension of college students and faculty members who engage in disorders was passed by the Ohio House, and court arguments began on a requested injunction against violence at Ohio State.

Only 400 students attended a rally on the OSU oval Tuesday, during which strike leaders announced the campus "free university" was disbanding.

The leaders also urged students to lobby in the legislature against the campus riot control legislation.

Young people packed the galleries when the House passed the measure after lengthy debate. The bill was being considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee today.

In Franklin County Common Pleas Court Tuesday, Judge Tom Moody continued a hearing on the injunction petition, but reserved the right to act if disorders erupt again.

He delayed a decision on the temporary injunction to allow attorneys additional time to file affidavits and briefs, but warned "this court will make an immediate ruling if anything changes for the worse" on the campus.

The injunction is being sought by nine students and one parent who also are suing for $1 million damages for campus disturbances the past six weeks which disrupted classes, brought out National Guardsmen three times and forced a 12-day shutdown of the big school.

Nine students and one professor named in the lawsuit appeared in the courtroom Tuesday as their attorneys argued against the injunction.

The court order would prevent them from "making statements, issuing leaflets or participating in activities designed to cause violence, disorder, personal injury, property damage or disruption of educational activities."

The attorney for the plaintiffs, David J. Young, said the injunction was needed to prevent the defendants "from further inflaming the situation... until the tinderbox on campus has cooled off."

Attorney Charles Taylor, defending David Kettler, a political science professor named in the suit, argued that the plaintiffs should take their complaint to university trustees if they feel their rights have been abused.

Jerry Messmer, lawyer defending the nine students, contended the injunction would infringe on the First Amendment rights of free speech as well as the right of peaceful assembly.

He also said the plaintiffs had failed to show that speeches by his clients led to rioting.

The Strike Coalition, made up of three militant student groups at Ohio State, began a class boycott and picketing late in April after university administrators refused to negotiate a list of 28 demands.

Demonstrations escalated into rioting which forced the school to close May 16-18.

During student-administration negotiations that began after the school reopened, the university agreed to establish a minority affairs office to recruit more black students and faculty and to eliminate the disciplinary committee and replace it with a hearing officer.

Other demands by the students included abolition of ROTC on campus, an end to war research, greater student decision-making power and more rights for women.

Scientists Create Life Gene With Organic Chemicals

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Scientists have created a gene in the laboratory, a feat that raises questions about the possibility of starting life itself in a test tube.

The announcement of the first man-made gene—the basic unit of heredity that controls all life processes—was made Tuesday by a team headed by a Nobel Prize winner, Dr. H. Gobind Khorana.

The University of Wisconsin team said genes can be made completely from simple organic chemicals.

Khorana, who won a 1968 Nobel for earlier work on the genetic code, said the new work might eventually allow scientists to manipulate the biology of a living system.

Some scientists have said in the past that it might be 25 to 100 years before this new knowledge of genetics can be put to work in man.

The first likely application would be in genetic engineering—perhaps infecting humans with viruses that carry new genes, genes that would cure hereditary diseases such as hemophilia.

By making and giving substitute genes, man may be able to make people smarter or taller. Scientists may be able to turn off the growth of cancer cells.

A first simple life form that might be made in the test tube is a virus.

Even this, however, could be dangerous. A man-made virus

might be so unusual that nothing would exist to control it.

So while scientists are moving closer to control of biological processes, they also are moving closer to dangers and the problems of the possible misuse of this mastery.

Who would be given the power to make decisions about heredity control? This question is one of profound concern to many scientists working with genetics.

When a Harvard Medical School team isolated pure genetic material late last year, Dr. Jonathan Beckwith, 33, the team leader, expressed fear that the work could be misused by government.

The Wisconsin synthesis of a gene is a major advance in a biological revolution that began in the 1940s with the discovery that growth and heredity are controlled by the chemical substance DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid.

Genes are molecules of DNA. They thus harbor the master genetic information that is responsible for making people, and all living things, what they are.

SPORTS Highlights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Longshots Midge Boy and Dreamy Marie combined for a $939 daily double payoff at Scioto Downs Tuesday night for the holders of 20 tickets on the 8-9 numbers.

In the featured race, Hermlou Gene came from fourth place at the head of the stretch for a two-length win and paid $19, $9 and $4.60. Happy Hal returned $8.60 and $3.60 for second and Volante Hal was worth $3 for show.

The 1-4 quinnella paid $129.60. A crowd of 4,694 wagered $198,232.

LONDON (AP)—The bookies were ready to take a fleecing today if American-owned Nijinsky won as expected in the prestigious Epsom Derby.

Nijinsky, owned by Charles W. Englehard, a New York platinum tycoon, was a 5-4 favorite for the 109-year-old race on Epsom Downs course.

A spokesman for Ladbrokes, one of Britain's leading bookies, said his firm would lose $240,000 if Nijinsky won. Hills, another bookmaking firm said a Nijinsky victory would cost it $150,000.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Shirley Englehorn has boosted her golf earnings to $7,514, vaulting from 11th to seventh on the Ladies Professional Golf Association earnings list for 1970.

Miss Englehorn's $2,250 victory in last week's O'Sullivan Open at Winchester, Va., pushed her up the list, an association Carol Mann with $12,655, followed by Sandra Haynie with $11,016, Kathy Whitworth $10,027, Marilyn Smith $8,739, Betsy Rawls $8,700, JoAnn Prentice $7,934, Miss Englehorn $7,514, Mary Mills $7,372 and Donna Caponi $6,063.

NEW YORK (AP)—Danzon stable's Delaware Chief Tuesday was made a $5,000 supplementary entry for Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes, the last of the Triple Crown classics.

Delaware Chief set the pace and hung on to finish third in Personality in the Wood Memorial. Earlier he had been second in the Gotham Mile and the Withers.

Pamphlet Law Voided

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland ordinance prohibiting distribution of leaflets in a public place without official permission was ruled unconstitutional Tuesday by U.S. District Judge William K. Thomas.

Judge Thomas said the language of the ordinance was so "vague and incomprehensible" as to be void and unconstitutional on its face.

The ruling came in a hearing on a petition for an injunction to prevent city officials from continuing to prosecute Carolyn R. Brown, 23, of Cleveland, and Nancy L. Rozman, 26, of Cleveland Heights.

The two women were distributing anti-war leaflets at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport on April 4 when stopped by city authorities.

American Civil Liberties Union attorney Jerry Gordon, representing the women, had attacked the constitutionality of the ordinance.

WASHINGTON OR BUST — These 29 seniors from Westfall High School "took off" for Washington, D. C., this morning for a four-day tour of the capital. The students raised their own money for the trip with car washes and bake sales. Their itinerary includes a guided tour of the city and its surrounding historical sites. The group will arrive home Sunday evening. Tour accommodations were arranged by the Knight Travel Service. The trip will be climaxed by a visit from Congressman Chalmers P. Wallace . . .

favored in November against Republican Harold E. Wallace, a 38-year-old Missoula sporting goods salesman.

Ray and Farrar will be seeking their second two-year terms in the Iowa and South Dakota state houses respectively.

In Iowa, Ray will be opposed by former Lt. Gov. Robert Fulton, who edged House Minority Leader William Gannon for the Democratic nomination.

The South Dakota voting saw Farrar sweep past state Sen. Frank Henderson in the GOP primary. He will meet state Rep. Richard Kneip, unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

In New Mexico, where Cargis is vacating the governorship after two two-year terms, former House Speaker Bruce King won a three-way Democratic primary, while Pete Domenici, a former Albuquerque city commissioner, captured a six-way GOP contest.

Seven states nominated candidates for House races too. In Iowa, veteran GOP Rep. Fred Schwegel survived a primary challenge from former State Senate Majority Leader David Stanley.

In California Rep. Paul N. McCloskey, a Republican who won the seat in 1967 after beating Shirley Temple Black in a special election, won renomination over his conservative challenger, Forden Athearn.

The Alabama contest marked the third straight Democratic gubernatorial primary victory by a member of the Wallace family.

Wallace won a first four-year term in 1962 and, ineligible to succeed himself in 1966, successfully ran his wife Lurleen.

When she died in 1968 Brewer, a onetime Wallace protégé, became governor and eventually a rival to the 1968 third-party candidate's effort to recapture the State House.

In the first primary May 5, Brewer fashioned an 11,763-vote lead in a seven-way race, but Wallace banked heavily on the racial issue in the runoff campaign.

It apparently paid off in white majorities that overcame a strong Brewer showing in predominantly black precincts.

With Republicans indicating they do not plan to put up anyone for governor—many of them backed Brewer in the primary—Wallace's triumph means he will regain the office in January and with it, the use of state personnel and transportation. While he might have run anyway, a defeat in his home state would have been a marked setback to his 1972 hopes.

In California, Unruh jumped into an early lead and claimed victory over Yorty, an acknowledged "maverick Democrat" who went to bed without conceding after issuing a statement about Democrats "to the left of the mainstream of American thinking" losing to Republicans in general elections.

Circleville Area Council Holds Meet

The Circleville Community Area Council held their regular monthly meeting June 1 with president Robert Jones presiding.

Plans for the youth cadet group are still in the making and any girl from six to 12 years old is invited to attend an organizational meeting on June 8 at 4 p.m. according to Sally Jones, project chairman. The committee hopes to have the group formed and ready for the Pumpkin Show.

Next meeting of the council is planned for June 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Paul AME Church, 422 S. Pickaway St.

City, County To Observe National Flag Week

The week of June 8 through June 14 has been designated as National Flag Week by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

State Chairman of National Flag Week, Col. William B. Haines of the State of Ohio Adjutant General's Department, has appointed James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service officer as the county chairman of National Flag Week.

In order to promote the displaying of the American flag during the entire week Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt for the city and Commissioners Tootle, Morris and Hines for the county have signed proclamations naming the above dates as National Flag Week in Circleville and Pickaway County.

Both proclamations state that the American flag stands as the symbol of "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Both the mayor and county commissioners call upon all residents, schools, civic and fraternal organizations, and all businesses within the city and county to pay homage to our "Star Spangled Banner" by displaying the flag, proudly, throughout the entire week.

Hall-Adkins Post 134, American Legion will place American flags in downtown Circleville on Mon., June 8 and again on Flag Day, June 14.

As chairman of Flag Week in Pickaway County, James Shea requests that all citizens who have American flags to display them every day from June 8-14, and make our community "a sea of American flags."

protection agreement since the current one will expire at the end of June.

Councilmen agreed to hear a request by the local radio station to air the council meetings live. A committee was appointed to meet with the station's general manager and make their recommendations to council.

Columbia Gas of Ohio reported an increase of .35 of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet to begin the first billing after June 15, due to an increase in rate to the local system.

Council members Pete Cook and Boyd Horn renewed discussion on the mayor's right to his post since the controversy about his acceptance of the assistant county prosecutor's post in January. Both asked that City Solicitor O. Charles Hosterman be present at meetings at least once a month to advise council on legal matters.

Then Horn told council that some action should be taken on the issue and made a motion that council remove Gerhardt from office immediately. Cook seconded Horn's move and requested that the issue come on the floor. After much discussion it was decided that there was no basis to Horn's proposal since action had been taken at the previous council meeting. Bell declared his motion out of order and Horn agreed to have a written resolution ready for the June 16 meeting.

Youth Grange Meeting Slated

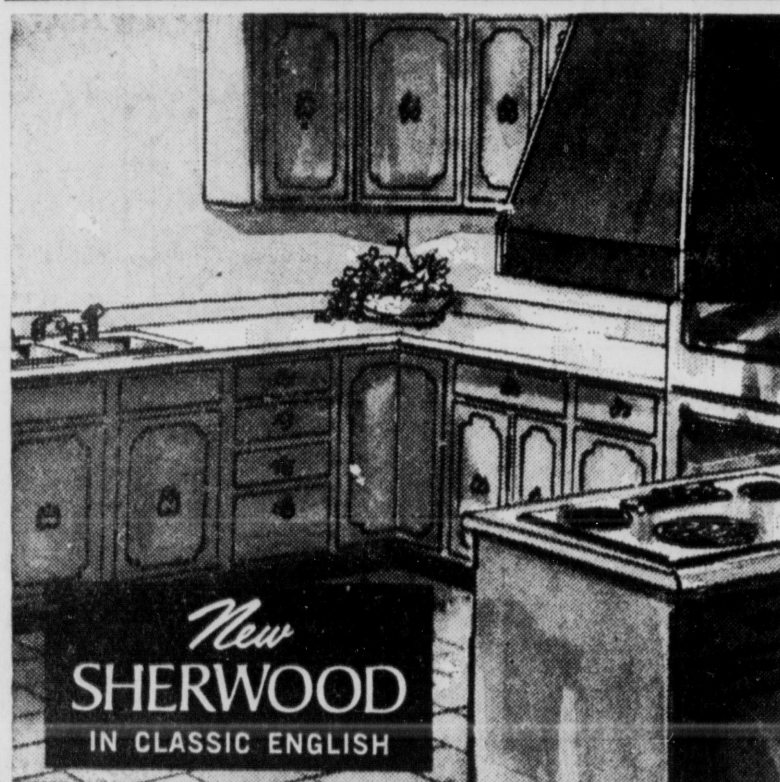

The Pickaway Grange Youth will hold their monthly meeting Sunday evening at the home of Terry Sheets beginning at 7:30 p.m. The business session will be conducted by Keith Lands and Betty Bolender.

Final arrangements for the talent contest will be discussed as well as the summer activities of the group. Bob Lands will lead the discussion of the fair booth and Betty Bolender will report on the drama division of the organization.

Members are reminded of the bake sale to be held this weekend in Circleville and are urged to attend the important business session.

Local Man Fined

William Hastings Jr., 44, of 121 Park Place, appeared before Judge Sterling Lamb in Circleville Municipal Court today. Hastings was cited by the Highway Patrol for speeding 80 in a 60 mile zone and ordered to pay a $20 fine plus court costs.

Goldschmidt Attends Rotary Confab

Dr. David S. Goldschmidt, of 901 Atwater Ave., is among the 12,000 Rotarians and guests from more than 60 countries attending the 61st annual Convention of Rotary International from May 31 to June 4 in Atlanta, Ga.

Goldschmidt, a member of the Rotary Club of Circleville, is accompanied by Mary Goldschmidt. It is the first Rotary convention he has attended since he joined the worldwide service association.

Among the convention highlights are major addresses concerning life in the future, fighting organized crime and how youth affects international affairs.

British writer Arthur C. Clarke, co-author of the book and movie, "2001: A Space Odyssey," discussed the future of our communities. Ralph F. Salerno, former supervisor of detectives for the New York City Police Department and a recognized authority on organized crime, focused on the problems of enforcing the law against organized criminal groups. Angie Brooks, President of the United Nations General Assembly, talked about the impact of youth on the world-wide scene.

The gathering also was addressed by James F. Conway, an attorney of Rockville Centre, N. Y., and current President of Rotary International, William E. Walk Jr., an attorney of Ontario, Calif.; President of Rotary International for 1970-71 and other Rotary officials. Ernst G. Breitholtz, of Kalmars, Sweden, was elected the organization's president for 1971-72.

Future Rotary International conventions are scheduled for Sydney, Australia, in 1971 and Houston, Texas, in 1972.

As for their goal of gaining powerful new allies, the most encouraging word for the students came from one of their most enthusiastic backers, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Cranston claims at least two senators, after visits by the youths, switched and now favor an amendment to restrict future U.S. involvement in Cambodia. He declined to name the senators.

However, most other senators and congressmen agree the young lobbyists' impact can't really be determined until the votes are counted.

According to many of those who listened to the voices of hundreds—some estimate thousands—of young, it was a generally peaceful exercise in communication, although not all the congressmen liked what they heard.

"Some were on a lark," said Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., a

Roundtown Players Pick New Officers

Al Perdition was elected new president of Roundtown Players for the coming year at a dinner meeting held Monday evening.

Carolyn Young was named first vice president and Steve Stevenson second vice president. Others named to officers were: Jean Schmaeten Berger, secretary; Ruth Ann Seibel, treasurer; and George Ganley and Helen Blum, board of trustee members.

Mrs. Carolyn Lane, a past president of the Assn. of Community Theatres in Columbus was guest speaker at the meeting. Mrs. Lane also writes a column in the Columbus Dispatch concerning the activities of the Community Theatres in the Columbus areas. She discussed the community theatres and their role to the city.

Roundtown Players is finalizing plans for their upcoming production of "Blythe Spirit," which will be presented this fall.

Nixon war policy critic and supporter of the youthful campaign, "but most of them were very serious kids with lots of dedication. They're clean-cut, good-looking youngsters."

However, Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., who supports President Nixon on Vietnam, said he met with young people here and in his home state and found "no matter what you tell them, unless you agree completely with them, they are never satisfied."

"I think some of them hurt themselves by their demands," he added. "There has been some backlash but it is hard to estimate how much."

On the other hand, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said: "I thought they were more effective than any similar action that we've ever had before."

"I tried to impress on them," he continued, "that taking part in politics is more important than demonstrating. I expect they will be more politically active this fall."

"Their earnestness impressed me as much as anything. Whether they changed any minds or not, they may have influenced some to proceed with greater caution," Aiken said.

Rep. Charles H. Griffin, D-Miss., another Nixon backer, said the student visits "did some good—they made us think about it, and helped me to understand their attitude."

But he added some students from Eastern schools "could see no clear danger to Communism—they are leaning more toward socialism than the free enterprise system."

Staff aides who talked with students visiting the office of Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., were "impressed mostly by those who came by themselves," said an assistant. "It was straight talk—in most cases we agreed with them, in some cases they got a little too unrealistic, but it was a give-and-take exchange of views," he added.

"The general impression is that they had a very positive impact—they were pretty good lobbyists and they left us with a good feeling," said a member of Kansas Republican Sen. James B. Pearson's staff.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., a backer of Nixon's Cambodia decision, found some of the 300 to 400 students stopping past his office "were willing to listen to his point of view as we sought to explain our position," an assistant said.

"Over-all, they were very courteous," he added, "but some felt 'if you don't agree with us, you're worthless.'"

"All of us have tried very hard to make ourselves available to them," said Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H. "They were campaigning for what they think will be a better America."

Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J., said he saw several hundred students and "with one or two exceptions, they conducted themselves extremely well. I might disagree with them but I could not complain about their conduct."

He contrasted this with what he viewed as arrogant behavior by a delegation of lawyers who, he said, insisted on seeing him at their convenience and—uninvited—look over office facilities.

New Holland To Have Fulltime Police Officer

New Holland will have a full-time policeman for a period of three months, Frank Wood, who has been a part-time officer in the village, has been employed on a 48-hour-a-week basis at $100 a week.

Economics will determine if the village can continue having a law officer on full-time basis.

Village council described "little disturbances" in the village necessitated an officer on duty more often than the 57 hours Wood patrolled last month on the part-time job.

Circleville Area Council Holds Meet

The Circleville Community Area Council held their regular monthly meeting June 1 with president Robert Jones presiding.

Plans for the youth cadet group are still in the making and any girl from six to 12 years old is invited to attend an organizational meeting on June 8 at 4 p.m. according to Sally Jones, project chairman. The committee hopes to have the group formed and ready for the Pumpkin Show.

Next meeting of the council is planned for June 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Paul AME Church, 422 S. Pickaway St.

City, County To Observe National Flag Week

The week of June 8 through June 14 has been designated as National Flag Week by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

State Chairman of National Flag Week, Col. William B. Haines of the State of Ohio Adjutant General's Department, has appointed James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service officer as the county chairman of National Flag Week.

In order to promote the displaying of the American flag during the entire week Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt for the city and Commissioners Tootle, Morris and Hines for the county have signed proclamations naming the above dates as National Flag Week in Circleville and Pickaway County.

Both proclamations state that the American flag stands as the symbol of "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Both the mayor and county commissioners call upon all residents, schools, civic and fraternal organizations, and all businesses within the city and county to pay homage to our "Star Spangled Banner" by displaying the flag, proudly, throughout the entire week.

Hall-Adkins Post 134, American Legion will place American flags in downtown Circleville on Mon., June 8 and again on Flag Day, June 14.

As chairman of Flag Week in Pickaway County, James Shea requests that all citizens who have American flags to display them every day from June 8-14, and make our community "a sea of American flags."

protection agreement since the current one will expire at the end of June.

Councilmen agreed to hear a request by the local radio station to air the council meetings live. A committee was appointed to meet with the station's general manager and make their recommendations to council.

Columbia Gas of Ohio reported an increase of .35 of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet to begin the first billing after June 15, due to an increase in rate to the local system.

Council members Pete Cook and Boyd Horn renewed discussion on the mayor's right to his post since the controversy about his acceptance of the assistant county prosecutor's post in January. Both asked that City Solicitor O. Charles Hosterman be present at meetings at least once a month to advise council on legal matters.

Then Horn told council that some action should be taken on the issue and made a motion that council remove Gerhardt from office immediately. Cook seconded Horn's move and requested that the issue come on the floor. After much discussion it was decided that there was no basis to Horn's proposal since action had been taken at the previous council meeting. Bell declared his motion out of order and Horn agreed to have a written resolution ready for the June 16 meeting.

Roll Call To Tell Story To Student Lobby

Goldschmidt Attends Rotary Confab

Dr. David S. Goldschmidt, of 901 Atwater Ave., is among the 12,000 Rotarians and guests from more than 60 countries attending the 61st annual Convention of Rotary International from May 31 to June 4 in Atlanta, Ga.

Goldschmidt, a member of the Rotary Club of Circleville, is accompanied by Mary Goldschmidt. It is the first Rotary convention he has attended since he joined the worldwide service association.

Among the convention highlights are major addresses concerning life in the future, fighting organized crime and how youth affects international affairs.

British writer Arthur C. Clarke, co-author of the book and movie, "2001: A Space Odyssey," discussed the future of our communities. Ralph F. Salerno, former supervisor of detectives for the New York City Police Department and a recognized authority on organized crime, focused on the problems of enforcing the law against organized criminal groups. Angie Brooks, President of the United Nations General Assembly, talked about the impact of youth on the world-wide scene.

The gathering also was addressed by James F. Conway, an attorney of Rockville Centre, N. Y., and current President of Rotary International, William E. Walk Jr., an attorney of Ontario, Calif.: President of Rotary International for 1970-71 and other Rotary officials. Ernst G. Breitholtz, of Kalmars, Sweden, was elected the organization's president for 1971-72.

Future Rotary International conventions are scheduled for Sydney, Australia, in 1971 and Houston, Texas, in 1972.

their performance, but it will take roll calls on key antiwar measures to calculate their contributions, if any.

An Associated Press survey shows most senators and representatives on both sides of the Indochina issue credited the students at least for their conduct. As for their goal of gaining powerful new allies, the most encouraging word for the students came from one of their most enthusiastic backers, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif.

Cranston claims at least two senators, after visits by the youths, switched and now favor an amendment to restrict future U.S. involvement in Cambodia. He declined to name the senators.

However, most other senators and congressmen agree the young lobbyists' impact can't really be determined until the votes are counted.

According to many of those who listened to the voices of hundreds—some estimate thousands—of young, it was a generally peaceful exercise in communication, although not all the congressmen liked what they heard.

"Some were on a lark," said Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., a

Roundtown Players Pick New Officers

Al Perdon was elected new president of Roundtown Players for the coming year at a dinner meeting held Monday evening.

Carolyn Young was named first vice president and Steve Stevenson second vice president. Others named to offices were: Jean Schmaeten Berger, secretary; Ruth Ann Seibel, treasurer; and George Ganley and Helen Blum, board of trustee members.

Mrs. Carolyn Lane, a past president of the Assn. of Community Theatres in Columbus was guest speaker at the meeting. Mrs. Lane also writes a column in the Columbus Dispatch concerning the activities of the Community Theatres in the Columbus areas. She discussed the community theatres and their role to the city.

Roundtown Players is finalizing plans for their upcoming production of "Blythe Spirit," which will be presented this fall.

Suit, Radio Taken From Automobile

Lester Lingo, 235 Cedar Heights, told Circleville Police that a suit and portable radio were taken from his car while it was parked at Prairie Lanes Tuesday.

Lingo valued the suit at $110 and the radio at $52.95.

Nixon war policy critic and supporter of the youthful campaign, "but most of them were very serious kids with lots of dedication. They're clean-cut, good-looking youngsters."

However, Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., who supports President Nixon on Vietnam, said he met with young people here and in his home state and found "no matter what you tell them, unless you agree completely with them, they are never satisfied. I think some of them hurt themselves by their demands," he added. "There has been some backlash but it is hard to estimate how much."

On the other hand, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said: "I thought they were more effective than any similar action that we've ever had before."

"I tried to impress on them," he continued, "that taking part in politics is more important than demonstrating. I expect they will be more politically active this fall."

"Their earnestness impressed me as much as anything. Whether they changed any minds or not, they may have influenced some to proceed with greater caution," Aiken said.

Rep. Charles H. Griffin, D-Miss., another Nixon backer, said the student visits "did some good—they made us think about it, and helped me to understand their attitude."

But he added some students from Eastern schools "could see no clear danger to Communism—they are leaning more toward socialism than the free enterprise system."

Staff aides who talked with students visiting the office of Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., were "impressed mostly by those who came by themselves," said an assistant. "It was straight talk—in most cases we agreed with them, in some cases they got a little too unrealistic, but it was a give-and-take exchange of views," he added.

The general impression is that they had a very positive impact—they were pretty good lobbyists and they left us with a good feeling," said a member of Kansas Republican Sen. James B. Pearson's staff.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., a backer of Nixon's Cambodia decision, found some of the 300 to 400 students stopping past his office "were willing to listen to his point of view as we sought to explain our position," an assistant said.

"Over-all, they were very courteous," he added, "but some felt 'if you don't agree with us, you're worthless.'"

"All of us have tried very hard to make ourselves available to them," said Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H. "They were campaigning for what they think will be a better America."

Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J., said he saw several hundred students and "with one or two exceptions, they conducted themselves extremely well. I might disagree with them but I could not complain about their conduct."

He contrasted this with what he viewed as arrogant behavior by a delegation of lawyers who, he said, insisted on seeing him at their convenience and—uninvited—took over office facilities.

New Holland To Have Fulltime Police Officer

New Holland will have a full-time policeman for a period of three months. Frank Wood, who has been a part-time officer in the village, has been employed on a 48-hour-a-week basis at $100 a week.

Economics will determine if the village can continue having a law officer on full-time basis.

Village council described "little disturbances" in the village necessitated an officer on duty more often than the 57 hours Wood patrolled last month on the part-time job.
